Khrush Shuns War Planning

Soviet Chief Claims Only Peaceful Aims

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev told a crowd welcoming him home from Hungary today that the Soviet Union would never wage war but will always be ready if war comes.

"Wars mean killing people," he declared in a speech at Lenin's Sports Palace. "Why should we want war when we have other means — I mean consumer goods."

Khrushchev did not make this point clear, but he intimated there would be a sharp increase in consumer goods production for the Soviet people.

"We will soon have an announcement," he said. "We are calculating the situation now. And then we will see in the final analysis who eats most and who has the most clothes."

The Soviet premier returned by jet airliner earlier today after an eight-day tour through Hungary.

Khrushchev was in a serious mood as he called Americans supercilious and their leaders millionaires who always want their own way.

* * *

HE ASSERTED that the Soviet Union, however, would not give up hope of reaching an agreement with the United States.

On the question of controls and inspection flights for nuclear disarmament, he said: "The Americans want to fly over our country and want us to fly over theirs. We want to do neither."

In his farewell to Budapest, Khrushchev asserted that the Hungarian working class will defend Communist rule in Hungary against any overthrow attempt.

"We leave with the conviction," Khrushchev said from a red-draped rostrum on the airport runway, "that if anyone again makes an attempt against the revolution, the Hungarian working class will show that the dictatorship of the proletariat exists and will remain in Hungary."

Warning Notes Helping Safety

Ohio's Point System Gets Official Credit

COLUMBUS (AP)—Warning letters to Ohio motorists accumulating six points, half the total for revocation of driver rights under a new Ohio law, are helping the campaign against reckless driving.

George C. Graden, state registrar of motor vehicles, said 2,300 warning letters are mailed monthly to drivers accumulating six points.

But he said only 95 requests are sent each month to common pleas courts asking suspension of licenses for those accumulating 12 or more points.

"This certainly indicates that the point system is becoming an effective weapon in Ohio's fight to reduce reckless driving," Braden said.

* * *

OHIO'S POINT system law, effective last year, requires the registrar to ask court suspension of driving rights for motorists accumulating 12 or more points for reckless driving, driving while intoxicated and other violations within a two year period.

Braden said courts have suspended 131 licenses under the point system and placed 40 drivers on probation. He said the Bureau of Motor Vehicles receives reports of 43,000 convictions for moving violations each month. Total violations reported since the new law went into effect approximate 330,000.

High Meat Price Probe Asked by Californian

GLENDORA, Calif. (AP) — The leader of a housewives' boycott today asked Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif) to investigate high meat prices.

Mrs. Barbara Crill, 23, said she wrote to Kuchel in Washington asking that he take action to lower meat prices.

The boycott, which began April 1, has spread from Santa Barbara to Long Beach, Mrs. Crill said. In some areas, she said, it has cut market meat sales as much as 30 per cent.

Lockbourne Plane Explodes in Air

Bulletin

NORTH COLLINS, N. Y. (AP)—A B47 jet bomber exploded today over this western New York area and crashed in flames into a field.

The big craft was based at Lockbourne Air Force Base at Columbus, Ohio. It carried a crew of four. All were presumed dead.

Lockbourne spokesmen said the B47 was on a routine training mission and that it was about to make contact with a refueling plane when the explosion occurred. The B47 was trailing the tanker by about a mile, the spokesmen said they were informed.

Dem Candidates For Governorship Step Up Campaign

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Democrats seeking the party's nomination for governor of Ohio are beginning to speed up their campaigns as the May 6 primary election date nears.

Michael V. DiSalle, who has carried his campaign to well over half of the estate's 88 counties, focused his attentions on juvenile delinquency in his prepared talk in Jackson this morning.

He said the state should use its facilities to alleviate conditions tending to cause juvenile delinquency.

"Detention is not the sole answer," he asserted. "In our present overly-crowded institutions for juvenile detention in Ohio, we have had neither time, the personnel, nor the facilities for any worthwhile program of rehabilitation. In many cases, it is probable that detention has done more harm than good."

DiSalle urged that the present system of utilizing foster homes through county placement agencies should be encouraged and promoted by the state.

* * *

HE SAID IF Ohio wishes to maintain its No. 2 industrial status in the nation, "then foreign political ideology, uncertainty, vacillation and wishful thinking have no place in the planning we need."

"We must anticipate the needs of tomorrow and act today," the former federal price stabilizer said, "to avoid an unbalanced economy which will serve to decrease our tax duplicate and send our newly educated people elsewhere to look for opportunities."

In Columbus, Albert Porter said the state must provide financial aid to water-needy communities to help preserve the state's water supply.

He said the state must help to build dams or pipelines from Lake Erie to provide water for drought-stricken inland communities which "cannot finance these projects without state help."

The Cuyahoga County engineer also took a verbal swing at the proposed so called right-to-work law, calling it the "right-to-shirk" law or "the free ride bill."

At a press conference, Columbus mayor Maynard E. Sensenbrenner charged Gov. C. William O'Neill "has been inept, indecisive, vacillating and lacking leadership."

The fiery mayor also singled out criticisms for each of the six other Democratic hopefuls:

"Mike DiSalle does not deserve to be governor of the state of Ohio because he sold labor down the river. His program is just so much fancy talk with no meat in it.

* * *

"MR. PORTER, an engineer — the governor of the state of Ohio must be able to analyze more than just engineering problems. It is the duty of the governor to appoint an Ohio highway director, and it is his responsibility to see that we have good engineers in every position covering the state.

"Mr. (Clingan) Jackson — A member of the parole board does not qualify anyone to be governor of a state. (Jackson, a Youngstown newsman, is a member of the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission).

"Mr. (Robert N.) Gorman, former Ohio Supreme Court judge—judicial experience qualifies one to be a good judge, and if he is good enough he could be a member of the Supreme Court. But this does not qualify one for the many facets of state government.

"Tony (Anthony J.) Celebrezze, Cleveland mayor—Tony is a good administrator who has helped the minorities in accordance with the democratic way of life and who has had administrative experience in dealing with the problems of the largest city of Ohio.

"Regardless of this, I will place my four years of administrative ability and accomplishments up against his four years.

"Mrs. (Vivienne) Suarez (Columbus housewife and mother of five children)—nothing to say."

Celebrezze, speaking before the Democratic Women's Council of Montgomery County, agreed with Sensenbrenner that the state needs more positive leadership.

In blasting O'Neill, he said the governor has taken credit for the highway program. But Celebrezze said plans were prepared under the previous administration and federal funds became available because "a group of us went to Washington."

* * *

THE CLEVELAND mayor predicted that "under the present fiscal policy the administration will run short of money and end up with a $30 million deficit."

He charged O'Neill hasbeen using carryover funds for budgeting when traditionally they are used for capital improvements.

Also on the topic of money, Celebrezze claimed the governor has used emergency funds, which are set aside for catastrophes, to pay office expenses because "he has exhausted his office appropriation in 14½ months."

Celebrezze, like Porter, also voiced disapproval at the right-to-work movement. He said such a law would "hack away" at collective bargaining and is "nothing but a device to bust unions."

Court Mulls Ford Case

The Ohio Supreme Court took the Evan P. Ford case under advisement yesterday. Its next regular session is next Wednesday and it may have a ruling at that time, however nothing is certain at this time.

Ford, former state senator from Pickaway and Franklin counties, argued yesterday that the high court should order his name placed on the Pickaway County Democratic ballot for nomination for Common Pleas Judge.

Ray Davis, Pickaway County Prosecutor, argued before the court that Ford had not shown intent to reside in Pickaway County and therefore the board of elections was right in ruling him off the ballot.

State law requires a candidate to reside in the political subdivision in which he is a candidate.

Racketeer's Man-Made Isle Creates Mystery in Illinois

COLLINSVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Rackets boss Frank (Buster) Wortman has created a mystery with a fortress-like building on an island which he made in a wooded area near Collinsville.

Interest in what Wortman plans to do with the project has been rekindled by new activity. Men are at work inside and outside the building, which had been all but deserted since it was erected a year ago. Well-dressed men driving late model cars frequently visit the site.

A Wortman associate purchased a 120-acre tract in the woods and converted the area into an island by digging a moat around it and diverting a creek into the moat.

Residents of the area think Wortman plans to use the building as either a hideout or a gambling casino. Federal agents have charged that Wortman heads a million-dollar-a-year betting operation in the East St. Louis area.

Slight Foreign Aid Cut Seen

Solons Doubt Heavy Slash Due This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two top House Foreign Affairs Committee members joined today in predicting committee approval of a foreign aid bill cut far less than in some recent years.

Rep. Morgan (D-Pa), committee chairman, and Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) spoke as the House group prepared to start writing an aid bill next week after the Easter recess.

President Eisenhower wants $3,942,092,000 in new aid money for the year beginning July 1. That would be 42 per cent more than the new funds Congress voted last year after chopping more than $1 billion from Eisenhower's request. The Foreign Affairs Committee cuts have ranged up to $1 billion in the past.

The group has finished extensive hearings on the current bill.

"I think it will come out of the committee with some reduction in the bill," he said. "I don't think the cut will be too deep."

* * *

VORYS FORESAW "some reduction but nothing like the wholesale slashing we have seen in recent years," and he said he expected the House would go along with a "cautious" cut by its committee.

Neither Morgan nor Vorys expects the committee to tack on major policy amendments to the bill this year.

Besides money cuts of various sizes, possible amendments to be offered would ban U. S. assistance to Poland and Yugoslavia, and stop arms shipments to Latin-American dictators.

There may also be moves to channel more foreign aid spending directly into purchases of American goods and to split economic and military aid into separate legislation in the future.

Wheat Crop Estimate Due From Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Crop Reporting Board makes its first estimate today of the size of the winter wheat crop.

The forecast comes at a time when the wheat surplus is going down, but when also there are indications that it may turn upward after the 1958 harvest.

Last December the board said the winter wheat crop had been planted on sufficient acreage to produce, at average acre yields, a crop of 906 million bushels. This compared with 707 million produced last year.

A crop of around 900 million bushels supplemented by even a below-average spring wheat crop of 200 million bushels would turn the surplus upward again.

Domestic and export markets for the 1958 crop are not now expected to exceed 950 million bushels. The first spring wheat crop estimate will be issued in June.

The Agriculture Department has been encouraging the export of wheat through subsidies averaging around 75 cents a bushel. The subsidies are designed to enable exporters to pay the domestic prices and sell abroad at the prevailing lower world prices.

One reason this year's crop is expected to be larger than last year's is that producers retired fewer acres of wheat land under the soil bank program than a year ago.

500 Airmen Back From Labrador

COLUMBUS (AP) — A lineup of wives and children waited in a rainstorm today while their husbands and fathers flew in to nearby Lockbourne Air Force Base after a winter's stay in Labrador.

As the first KC97 air refueling tanker landed in early morning darkness, the crew debarked and got, in turn, on a "smooching line," a pay line and a line to get their leave papers.

The men, about 500 in all, are members of the 321st Air Refueling Squadron of the 26th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing.

Typical U.S. School Labeled 'Too Small'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The typical American public school is too small to do its job properly says an Iowa educator.

Ralph C. Morris of Des Moines, superintendent of Polk County schools, told the International Council for Exceptional Children that the typical school has 300 students and 10 teachers from kindergarten through the 12th grade. The minimum, he said, should be 40 teachers and 1,200 pupils.

Cuban Troops Clashing Anew with Rebel Units

BOMBING IN HAVANA — Bystanders watch flames shooting from a gas main that erupted after Cuban rebels went out on a bomb-and-fire rampage in downtown Havana. The Prado normally is the busiest street in Havana, but it was nearly deserted except for police.

All Provinces Report Action

Batista Forces Press To Quell Uprisings

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Clashes between rebels and troops spread today in the wake of Wednesday's abortive uprising. The death toll passed 40 as bombings, killings and sabotage continued in all six Cuban provinces despite an army claim that everything was quiet.

Rebels burned trucks and buses in three towns of Havana province and exchanged gunfire with soldiers. The army said several rebels were killed in this exchange.

* * *

REBELS SHOT up three buses in western Havana, wounding a bus driver. Four bombs exploded in southeastern Havana, damaging private properties.

Among nearly 30 rebels known killed in Havana was Marcelo Salado. Police called him a Communist terrorist. Police seized arms in rebel hideouts in Havana.

Authorities seized a big arms cache in the town of Artemisa, including machine guns, grenade and fire bombs.

Telephone and telegraph communications with Oriente province, rebel stronghold in eastern Cuba, still were cut.

Police were shooting on sight as they pressed a roundup of rebels in Havana and at Matanzas, 63 miles to the east. These were the only two cities to respond to the rebel call for an armed uprising and general strike Wednesday.

Rebel leader Fidel Castro's lieutenants said they would try again to overthrow Batista, "probably very soon." Instead of the 50,000 armed revolutionists the rebel chieftain had said would rise up, probably less than 200 answered the call.

The rebels insisted the 2½-hour outbreak had been launched as a rehearsal for the long-promised all-out attack. But they were shocked and bitter that the public failed to heed their strike call, broadcast from briefly captured radio and television stations.

South Korean Fails in Try To Steal Plane

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Crewmen of a South Korean air force transport overpowered one of their mates who tried to hijack the plane at gunpoint to the Communist North today. The plane's radioman was shot and killed and the pilot and engineer were seriously wounded.

The copilot took over the controls of the C46 and landed it in South Korea at Pyongtaik, 40 miles south of Seoul.

The would be hijacker, who apparently was not hurt, was arrested.

It was the second such incident in two months. On Feb. 16 North Koreans forced the two American pilots of a South Korean civilian airliner to fly into North Korea. Later the Communists released the two Americans and 24 of the 32 others aboard but are still holding the plane and its cargo.

Air force officials identified the man who tried to take over the plane today only as a Captain Choi. They said he was about 30 and a native of North Pyongyang province, north of the Communist Korean capital. Part of his family lives in the North, they added.

There appeared to be some belief that Choi was not necessarily a Communist agent but just wanted to return to his birthplace. A special investigation board left for Pyongtaik.

An air force announcement said Choi made his attempt 40 minutes after the plane, with seven South Koreans aboard, took off on a flight from Taegu to Seoul.

News of World in Brief

Russia Proposing Economic Parley

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union today proposed that the economic ministers of all European countries and the United States meet this fall to work out a joint plan to combat the recession.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister A. V. Zaharov told the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe that the meeting should emphasize plans for a long-range increase in Europe's East-West trade.

Western delegates made no immediate public comment on the surprise proposal, but some said privately that the primary goal was relaxation of Western controls on strategic exports to the Soviet bloc.

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill, still recovering from an attack of pneumonia and pleurisy last month, has canceled his trip to the United States.

The 83-year-old statesman's secretary said Wednesday night Churchill informed President Eisenhower "with much regret he has felt obliged to cancel his visit."

Churchill and his wife were to have gone to the United States late this month.

LONDON (AP)—Big Ben, the 13½-ton bell of the most famous clock in the world, marked its 100th birthday today.

For a century now it has rung out the hours from the top of the 320-foot clock tower looming over Britain's houses of Parliament at Westminster.

No special booms were sounded for the centenary.

Big Ben got its name from Sir Benjamin Hall, commissioner of works when the clock was built.

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP) — John Kavanagh, 21, stole a bicycle to make his getaway after a raid he planned on a jewelry shop. He parked the bike at the curb and went into the shop.

Michael Smith, riding past on a bus, recognized his stolen bike, which was painted an unmistakable combination of red and yellow. Smith got off the bus, mounted the bike and rode away.

Kavanagh came dashing from the shop with a ring valued at 32 pounds —$90— which he had snatched from a tray. While he stood in confusion, looking for the missing getaway vehicle, the jeweler charged out and collared him.

In court Kavanagh was put on probation for two years.

Four Injured On Route 23

Southbound Car Smashes into Truck

Four persons were injured, none seriously, in a car-truck crash on Route 23 and Radcliffe Road about three miles south of Circleville yesterday at 3:10 p.m.

Three of the injured were a Detroit, Mich., couple and one of their two children. Rushed to Berger Hospital for emergency treatment were Stonewall Adkins, 46, his wife Gracie, 20, and children, William, 4, and Kathie, 3.

Adkins, driver of the car, suffered lacerations of the face and possible chest injuries. Mrs. Adkins was treated for multiple face lacarations and the daughter surfered head injuries. The son was not injured.

The truck was operated by Thomas Hockman, 76, Route 1, Laurelville, who suffered shock and possible hip injuries. All the injured were listed in "satisfactory condition.

* * *

DEPUTY Sheriffs Robert Hoover and Dwight Radcliff said the Adkins car, headed south on Route 23, crashed into the front side of the truck which was pulling onto Route 23 from Radcliffe Road.

Adkins told the deputies that he swerved to the left but could not avoid striking the oncoming truck. Hockman was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Deputies said both vehicles were demolished. The truck was carrying 250 bushels of wheat, they added.

Researchers Study New Plan In Treatment Against Cancer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Researchers here are working on the idea of deliberately giving fatal doses of drugs or X-rays to knock out a patient's cancer and then saving his life with a potent biological antidote to the poison or radiation.

The lifesaving part of it already has worked in normal mice given deadly doses of a drug used to treat breast cancer and other solid types of malignancy.

Another researcher has transplanted cancers into mice, given them more than fatal does of radiation and then snatched them from death with the potent anti-radiation substance.

Investigators elsewhere have done the same thing on mice with spontaneous cancer.

The potentially great lifesaver is bone marrow. It is used here on the radiated mice by Dr. John J. Trentin of Baylor University Medical School and on lethally drugged mice by Dr. Arthur Kirschblaum of Baylor and the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital.

* * *

THE DRUG is thio-tepa, which has been used with some success against human cancer but which is so poisonous that it cannot be given in large enough amounts to deliver what might be a knockout blow to malignancy. Its main undesirable effect is to destroy bone marrow, which is responsible for the production of blood cells.

Radiation also is a great weapon against cancer but it has to be carefully limited because of its bone marrow destroying ability. This is the principal way radiation from atom bombs and other sources destroys human and animal life.

Mice given the anticancer drug in large doses lived only 10 days if left untreated with the lifesaver. But those given injections of marrow from other mice have survived for two months and are in good health, Dr. Kirschbaum said.

Dr. Trentin gave his mice X-ray doses far above the death level. Some of these were given marrow from closely related strains. Others received marrow from unrelated strains.

Those which got marrow from close relatives went on to a healthy old age. Those which received marrow from unrelated mice recovered from the effects of radiation but developed a "wasting disease" due to a reaction against the foreign nature of the marrow from nonrelatives. Those mice died.

Hates Housework, Wins State Title

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Winner of the Mrs. California title is a mother who hates housework. Patricia Griffin, 25, loves to cook, however, she conceded upon assuming the state title.

Racketeer's Man-Made Isle Creates Mystery in Illinois

COLLINSVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Rackets boss Frank (Buster) Wortman has created a mystery with a fortress-like building on an island which he made in a wooded area near Collinsville.

Interest in what Wortman plans to do with the project has been rekindled by new activity. Men are at work inside and outside the building, which had been all but deserted since it was erected a year ago. Well-dressed men driving late model cars frequently visit the site.

A Wortman associate purchased a 120-acre tract in the woods and converted the area into an island by digging a moat around it and diverting a creek into the moat.

Residents of the area think Wortman plans to use the building as either a hideout or a gambling casino. Federal agents have charged that Wortman heads a million-dollar-a-year betting operation in the East St. Louis area.

Slight Foreign Aid Cut Seen

Solons Doubt Heavy Slash Due This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two top House Foreign Affairs Committee members joined today in predicting committee approval of a foreign aid bill cut far less than in some recent years.

Rep. Morgan (D-Pa), committee chairman, and Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) spoke as the House group prepared to start writing an aid bill next week after the Easter recess.

President Eisenhower wants $3,942,092,000 in new aid money for the year beginning July 1. That would be 42 per cent more than the new funds Congress voted last year after chopping more than $1 billion from Eisenhower's request. The Foreign Affairs Committee cuts have ranged up to $1 billion in the past.

The group has finished extensive hearings on the current bill.

"I think it will come out of the committee with some reduction in the bill," he said. "I don't think the cut will be too deep."

* * *

VORYS FORESAW "some reduction but nothing like the wholesale slashing we have seen in recent years," and he said he expected the House would go along with a "cautious" cut by its committee.

Neither Morgan nor Vorys expects the committee to tack on major policy amendments to the bill this year.

Besides money cuts of various sizes, possible amendments to be offered would ban U. S. assistance to Poland and Yugoslavia, and stop arms shipments to Latin-American dictators.

There may also be moves to channel more foreign aid spending directly into purchases of American goods and to split economic and military aid into separate legislation in the future.

Wheat Crop Estimate Due From Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Crop Reporting Board makes its first estimate today of the size of the winter wheat crop.

The forecast comes at a time when the wheat surplus is going down, but when also there are indications that it may turn upward after the 1958 harvest.

Last December the board said the winter wheat crop had been planted on sufficient acreage to produce, at average acre yields, a crop of 906 million bushels. This compared with 707 million produced last year.

A crop of around 900 million bushels supplemented by even a below-average spring wheat crop of 200 million bushels would turn the surplus upward again.

Domestic and export markets for the 1958 crop are not now expected to exceed 950 million bushels. The first spring wheat crop estimate will be issued in June.

The Agriculture Department has been encouraging the export of wheat through subsidies averaging around 75 cents a bushel. The subsidies are designed to enable exporters to pay the domestic prices and sell abroad at the prevailing lower world prices.

One reason this year's crop is expected to be larger than last year's is that producers retired fewer acres of wheat land under the soil bank program than a year ago.

500 Airmen Back From Labrador

COLUMBUS (AP) — A lineup of wives and children waited in a rainstorm today while their husbands and fathers flew in to nearby Lockbourne Air Force Base after a winter's stay in Labrador.

As the first KC97 air refueling tanker landed in early morning darkness, the crew debarked and got, in turn, on a "smooching line," a pay line and a line to get their leave papers.

The men, about 500 in all, are members of the 321st Air Refueling Squadron of the 26th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing.

Typical U.S. School Labeled 'Too Small'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The typical American public school is too small to do its job properly says an Iowa educator.

Ralph C. Morris of Des Moines, superintendent of Polk County schools, told the International Council for Exceptional Children that the typical school has 300 students and 10 teachers from kindergarten through the 12th grade. The minimum, he said, should be 40 teachers and 1,200 pupils.

Cuban Troops Clashing Anew with Rebel Units

BOMBING IN HAVANA — Bystanders watch flames shooting from a gas main that erupted after Cuban rebels went out on a bomb-and-fire rampage in downtown Havana. The Prado normally is the busiest street in Havana, but it was nearly deserted except for police.

Batista Forces Press To Quell Uprisings

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Clashes between rebels and troops spread today in the wake of Wednesday's abortive uprising. The death toll passed 40 as bombings, killings and sabotage continued in all six Cuban provinces despite an army claim that everything was quiet.

Rebels burned trucks and buses in three towns of Havana province and exchanged gunfire with soldiers. The army said several rebels were killed in this exchange.

* * *

REBELS SHOT up three buses in western Havana, wounding a bus driver. Four bombs exploded in southeastern Havana, damaging private properties.

Among nearly 30 rebels known killed in Havana was Marcelo Salado. Police called him a Communist terrorist. Police seized arms in rebel hideouts in Havana.

Authorities seized a big arms cache in the town of Artemisa, including machine guns, grenade and fire bombs.

Telephone and telegraph communications with Oriente province, rebel stronghold in eastern Cuba, still were cut.

Police were shooting on sight as they pressed a roundup of rebels in Havana and at Matanzas, 63 miles to the east. These were the only two cities to respond to the rebel call for an armed uprising and general strike Wednesday.

Rebel leader Fidel Castro's lieutenants said they would try again to overthrow Batista, "probably very soon." Instead of the 50,000 armed revolutionists the rebel chieftain had said would rise up, probably less than 200 answered the call.

The rebels insisted the 2½-hour outbreak had been launched as a rehearsal for the long-promised all-out attack. But they were shocked and bitter that the public failed to heed their strike call, broadcast from briefly captured radio and television stations.

South Korean Fails in Try To Steal Plane

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Crewmen of a South Korean air force transport overpowered one of their mates who tried to hijack the plane at gunpoint to the Communist North today. The plane's radioman was shot and killed and the pilot and engineer were seriously wounded.

The copilot took over the controls of the C46 and landed it in South Korea at Pyongtaik, 40 miles south of Seoul.

The would be hijacker, who apparently was not hurt, was arrested.

It was the second such incident in two months. On Feb. 16 North Koreans forced the two American pilots of a South Korean civilian airliner to fly into North Korea. Later the Communists released the two Americans and 24 of the 32 others aboard but are still holding the plane and its cargo.

Air force officials identified the man who tried to take over the plane today only as a Captain Choi. They said he was about 30 and a native of North Pyongyang province, north of the Communist Korean capital. Part of his family lives in the North, they added.

There appeared to be some belief that Choi was not necessarily a Communist agent but just wanted to return to his birthplace. A special investigation board left for Pyongtaik.

An air force announcement said Choi made his attempt 40 minutes after the plane, with seven South Koreans aboard, took off on a flight from Taegu to Seoul.

Russia Proposing Economic Parley

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union today proposed that the economic ministers of all European countries and the United States meet this fall to work out a joint plan to combat the recession.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister A. V. Zaharov told the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe that the meeting should emphasize plans for a long-range increase in Europe's East-West trade.

Western delegates made no immediate public comment on the surprise proposal, but some said privately that the primary goal was relaxation of Western controls on strategic exports to the Soviet bloc.

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill, still recovering from an attack of pneumonia and pleurisy last month, has canceled his trip to the United States.

The 83-year-old statesman's secretary said Wednesday night Churchill informed President Eisenhower "with much regret he has felt obliged to cancel his visit."

Churchill and his wife were to have gone to the United States late this month.

LONDON (AP)—Big Ben, the 13½-ton bell of the most famous clock in the world, marked its 100th birthday today.

For a century now it has rung out the hours from the top of the 320-foot clock tower looming over Britain's houses of Parliament at Westminster.

No special booms were sounded for the centenary.

Big Ben got its name from Sir Benjamin Hall, commissioner of works when the clock was built.

LONDON (AP) — Soviet railway workers Wednesday gave 5,000 pounds—$14,000—each to the widows of two British railway union leaders killed in an auto wreck near Stalingrad last November.

The Britons were in a group touring the Soviet Union.

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP) — John Kavanagh, 21, stole a bicycle to make his getaway after a raid he planned on a jewelry shop. He parked the bike at the curb and went into the shop.

Michael Smith, riding past on a bus, recognized his stolen bike, which was painted an unmistakable combination of red and yellow. Smith got off the bus, mounted the bike and rode away.

Kavanagh came dashing from the shop with a ring valued at 32 pounds —$90— which he had snatched from a tray. While he stood in confusion, looking for the missing getaway vehicle, the jeweler charged out and collared him.

In court Kavanagh was put on probation for two years.

Four Injured On Route 23

Southbound Car Smashes into Truck

Four persons were injured, none seriously, in a car-truck crash on Route 23 and Radcliffe Road about three miles south of Circleville yesterday at 3:10 p.m.

Three of the injured were a Detroit, Mich., couple and one of their two children. Rushed to Berger Hospital for emergency treatment were Stonewall Adkins, 46, his wife Gracie, 20, and children, William, 4, and Kathie, 3.

Adkins, driver of the car, suffered lacerations of the face and possible chest injuries. Mrs. Adkins was treated for multiple face lacarations and the daughter surfered head injuries. The son was not injured.

The truck was operated by Thomas Hockman, 76, Route 1, Laurelville, who suffered shock and possible hip injuries. All the injured were listed in "satisfactory condition.

* * *

DEPUTY Sheriffs Robert Hoover and Dwight Radcliff said the Adkins car, headed south on Route 23, crashed into the front side of the truck which was pulling onto Route 23 from Radcliffe Road.

Adkins told the deputies that he swerved to the left but could not avoid striking the oncoming truck. Hockman was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Deputies said both vehicles were demolished. The truck was carrying 250 bushels of wheat, they added.

Researchers Study New Plan In Treatment Against Cancer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Researchers here are working on the idea of deliberately giving fatal doses of drugs or X-rays to knock out a patient's cancer and then saving his life with a potent biological antidote to the poison or radiation.

The lifesaving part of it already has worked in normal mice given deadly doses of a drug used to treat breast cancer and other solid types of malignancy.

Another researcher has transplanted cancers into mice, given them more than fatal does of radiation and then snatched them from death with the potent anti-radiation substance.

Investigators elsewhere have done the same thing on mice with spontaneous cancer.

The potentially great lifesaver is bone marrow. It is used here on the radiated mice by Dr. John J. Trentin of Baylor University Medical School and on lethally drugged mice by Dr. Arthur Kirschblaum of Baylor and the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital.

* * *

THE DRUG is thio-tepa, which has been used with some success against human cancer but which is so poisonous that it cannot be given in large enough amounts to deliver what might be a knockout blow to malignancy. Its main undesirable effect is to destroy bone marrow, which is responsible for the production of blood cells.

Radiation also is a great weapon against cancer but it has to be carefully limited because of its bone marrow destroying ability. This is the principal way radiation from atom bombs and other sources destroys human and animal life.

Mice given the anticancer drug in large doses lived only 10 days if left untreated with the lifesaver. But those given injections of marrow from other mice have survived for two months and are in good health, Dr. Kirschbaum said.

Dr. Trentin gave his mice X-ray doses far above the death level. Some of these were given marrow from closely related strains. Others received marrow from unrelated strains.

Those which got marrow from close relatives went on to a healthy old age. Those which received marrow from unrelated mice recovered from the effects of radiation but developed a "wasting disease" due to a reaction against the foreign nature of the marrow from nonrelatives. Those mice died.

Hates Housework, Wins State Title

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Winner of the Mrs. California title is a mother who hates housework. Patricia Griffin, 25, loves to cook, however, she conceded upon assuming the state title.

"My wife is so beautiful and so smart, it wouldn't matter if she couldn't cook at all," commented husband G. Edward Griffin.

Police Investigate Thefts From Cars

Circleville Police today are investigating the theft of a radio from Pickaway Motor's garage, N. Court St., and the removal of two auto fender skirts owned by Floyd Moats, 123 Mound St.

The car radio theft was reported yesterday. It was valued at $50.

Police said the fender skirts were taken last night. The car was parked in Moats' garage.

Patrolman Roderick List investigated.

Speeder Fined In Muny Court

Ralph E. Peters, 23, Stoutsville, was fined in Circleville Municipal Court today on an accusation of speeding.

Peters was fined $20 and costs for speeding at 70 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone. He was arrested by the State Highway Patrol.

Divinity School Deans Plead For Unity

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Church unity, an educated ministry and more stands on issues are the three chief needs of modern Christianity, say the deans of the Yale and Harvard divinity schools.

"The church needs more unity and integrity," said Dean Liston Pope of Yale. "The split into 200 different Protestant churches is self-contradictory."

Speaking for more education in the religious field, Dean Douglas Horton of Harvard said of his students: "We are trying to sensitize them so that they can think for themselves. Religion is not something to which you can close your mind."

The third great need, said Pope, is "greater relevance to what is going on in the world. The church is much less relevant to social matters now than 40 years ago."

Furthermore, he said, "the church too often doesn't speak out enough. It has become too timid on most of the great issues facing the world."

Why the reluctance for Christianity to take stands?

"The complexity of social issues is more clearly seen now than several years ago," said Horton. Things don't seem so clear-cut nowadays as men of 40 years ago used to think, he added.

Both deans, Congregationalists, are leaders in the ecumenical movement — a phrase that connotes a world unity of churches.

Transplant Teeth Proven Success

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—Living proof has been presented that it is now possible to transplant teeth successfully.

Four teen-agers showed their transplanted teeth Wednesday night in a demonstration for 150 dentists and oral surgeons attending the annual Harvard Dental Assn. meeting.

The four are among 50 young patients who had transplant operations performed by Dr. Walter C. Guralnick, dental surgeon at Massachusetts General Hospital. He said that in all cases the transplants were successful.

By the time Havana quieted down around midnight, at least 29 rebels had been counted dead in the capital. Two policemen were killed in the suburbs and a number wounded.

The outbreak was the first fighting in Havana since Castro called for "total, implacable war" against Batista beginning last Saturday. Most of the recent fighting has been in easternmost Oriente province, Castro's headquarters area, where his guerrilla forces have knocked out most road and rail traffic.

Rebel leaders said only a trial maneuver was planned but hotheaded youths caused it to misfire. Insurgents had been instructed only to sabotage utility systems, force work suspensions and then declare the strike. But badly coordinated firing made it look like the big thing.

First came the strike broadcasts at 11:30 a. m., the beginning of Havana's three-hour lunchtime. About 75 rebels opened fire on police in the old port area while raiding parties knocked out some gas, electric and telephone services. Rebel snipers fired at police from rooftops in some districts.

Block-to-block fighting failed to develop, however, and police were able to concentrate on the isolated rebel groups and scatter them.

By 2 p. m. the outnumbered rebels were forced to abandon the fight. Most workers returned to their jobs after lunch, and the police counteroffensive began.

Stock Mart Backs Away, Chalks Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market backed away in full trading early this afternoon. Small losses were the rule for most key stocks.

Steels, motors, chemicals and nonferrous metals declined. Leading rails were slightly ahead on average. Utilities were fairly firm. A few stocks moved more widely.

The market was resuming a downtrend interrupted by a day and a half of technical rebound following a general decline that lasted nine sessions.

Lukens Steel fell about 3 points. Eastern Corp. jumped well over a point. Lorillard lost about a point.

Youngstown Sheet dropped around a point. Fractional losses were the portion of U.S. Steel, Bethelehem and Republic Steel.

Chrysler was down a good-sized fraction while General Motors eased. Du Pont was off around a point. Standard Oil (NJ) lost a fraction.

Small losses also were taken by Anaconda, Kennecott, United Aircraft, Union Carbide, American Tobacco and Southern Railway. Boeing and Consolidated Natural Gas were slight gainers. New York Central, Southern Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio were steady.

U. S. government bonds were steady to a shade higher.

Ohio Idle Pay Fund Cut 10 Pct.

COLUMBUS (AP)—Jobless benefit payments in the first three months of 1958 cut Ohio's unemployment trust fund balance nearly 10 per cent.

State Treasurer Roger Tracy said the fund balance at the end of March totaled $554,662,659. He said that was a drop of more than $57½ million from the total a year ago. The decline was 9.41 pct.

Benefit payments during the January-March period, Tracy reported, totaled nearly $64½ million, an increase of more than $42 million over the same period a year ago. He said that was a 191 per cent increase.

Local Ministerial Assn. Joins Pickaway Cancer Drive

The Pickaway County Ministerial Assn. has granted its endorsement to the American Cancer Crusade in Pickaway County.

Cancer Sunday will be observed in many churches. Special prayers will be made for the progress of medicine and science in combating this dreaded disease. Free materials have been distributed for circulation by the Cancer Society in county churches.

"The national hospital bill," Hal Dickenson, Pickaway County Unit chairman of the Society said, "is estimated at about $300 million, or 10 times what the American Cancer Society is asking the public to give to fight cancer in 1958. Last year more school children died of cancer than of any other disease."

The ACS program, financed by funds donated by the public each year, he said, is a four-point attack on the problem:

To find what causes cancer.

To find new ways to cure the disease.

To find ways to prevent it.

To alleviate pain and suffering.

The Ministerial Assn. is hopeful and prayerful that the goal set for Pickaway County will be met in full by generous gifts and pledges, and that the Cancer Society's three - fold purpose of Education, Service and Research might be realized constantly.

* * *

"THE RELIGIOUS aspect of the crusade against cancer, with its message of faith and hope, has always been sought and highly respected by the members of the Pickaway County Cancer Unit," said Ministerial president, Charles D. Reed.

Reed continued, "With a united front in our county we can give encouraging support to all those engaged in the struggle against the disease which now ranks as America's No. 2 killer."

5 Cleveland Kiddies Die In Home Fire

CLEVELAND (AP) — A flash fire swept through a 2½-story frame house today and killed five children, all under 8 years of age.

Their mother, who was preparing breakfast when the fire started, escaped with her 2-year-old daughter. Neighbors tried to save the children, but the flames blocked off the rescue attempts.

Killed in the fire were these children of Arthur Hicks, 30, and his wife, Ann, 24: Richard, 7, Robert 6, Barbara 5, Roger 4, and Ronald, 4 months.

Mrs. Hicks said she was in the kitchen of the house with 2-year-old Christine when the fire started. She and the baby girl were burned slightly.

"I was in the kitchen when I heard a thud," Mrs. Hicks told newsmen. "I thought the children had gotten up. I turned and saw the pantry was on fire.

"I ran to the front room to call the fire department. I didn't know the number, so I dialed the operator. When I hung up, I ran back to the kitchen and was going to get the children. The whole house seemed to be on fire.

"All I could do was grab Christine and run out of the house.

"A neighbor coaxed three of the four children upstairs out on the porch roof. I tried to get them to jump, but they went back in."

The father, who had left for his job at Park Drop Forge Co. just before the fire started, said:

"All my life I've been afraid of fire, and now one had to take my children."

Teachers Studying 'To Keep Up with Kids'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fifty school teachers from suburban Euclid went to school Wednesday night—for a post graduate course in space technology. The first session was on guided missiles.

"This is getting to be quite a subject," said D. W. Thompson, who teachers advanced algebra and geometry in high school. "After this I ought to be able to keep up with the kids."

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Communist Czechoslovakia has protested to the U.S. State Department against its refusal to give fellow - traveling Negro singer Paul Robeson a passport to travel abroad.

The official Czech news agency CTK said the Czech Peace Committee had invited Robeson to Prague for a spring music festival.

Several Communist nations and India sent congratulations to Robeson Wednesday on his 60th birthday and held celebrations in his honor.

NEW DELHI (AP)—India's Communist party Wednesday night unanimously adopted a new constitution designed to win votes away from Prime Minister Nehru's government Congress party by making the Reds look respectably democratic.

The constitution emphasizes the "closest contact with voters. . . unostentatious behavior and humility in all dealings with people."

The constitution was adopted after two days of discussion at a weeklong meeting of 500 delegates.

U.S. Experts Doubt Jap Fallout Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission said today that no evidence has been found to support a Japanese report that fish and marine life in the western Pacific have been contaminated by radioactive fallout.

An AEC spokesman was commenting on a report by Dr. Yasuo Miyake, director of the Geochemical Research Laboratory of Japan's Meteorological Assn.

Miyake said that consumption of the fish may not be a threat now, but it will become so if the nuclear tests are not stopped.

2 Amish Dads Handed Fines

Pair Ruled Guilty In School Dispute

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Two Amish fathers who have defied Ohio's school attendance law were fined $500 each Wednesday for contempt of court. But the legal tug-of-war over sending their sons to school still remained a hot and unresolved issue.

John and Eli Hershberger, cousins, were fined by Juvenile Court Judge Don Young of Norwalk because the sons were not brought to the hearing on child neglect charges as ordered by the court.

The case of a third Amish father, Emmanuel Slabaugh, was continued until next Wednesday.

All the cases stem from one fundamental conflict:

The Amish sect believe schooling beyond the eighth grade tends to loosen ties with religious beliefs. Ohio law, however, requires children to attend school until they are 16. All three boys involved are under 16 and have not attended school for almost a year.

The fines were not paid, pending an appeal which volunteer attorneys for the Amish said they would file. Judge Young permitted the parents to go home and said the fines must be paid only if an appeal of the decision is denied.

The Hershberger fathers and one of the mothers testified they had seen their sons about two weeks ago at the home of Jacob Miller in neighboring Holmes County, but have not been in contact with the boys since.

The parents said they had made no effort to locate their sons to bring them into court.

At a similar hearing last month, Judge Young sent all three couples to jail for contempt of court. The judge held that the parents did not comply with his order that the children be turned over to county authorities.

The Ninth District Court of Appeals, sitting at Akron, ruled the imprisonment improper and freed the parents after they had spent 12 days in the Wayne County Jail.

The search—since Jan. 29—for the three truant boys by Sheriff Glenn A. Rike and his deputies has proved fruitless. Rike said he will renew efforts to find the boys. But he explained finding the Jacob Miller farm will be difficult because there are many Amish with that name in the area.

'Most Lonesome' GI Of World War I Dies at Age 68

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP)—A western Pennsylvania man who was dubbed the "world's most lonesome soldier" in World War I died Wednesday at the age of 68.

Dode Cunningham of nearby Ruff Creek was given the nickname by a woman journalist who visited Camp Sherman near Chillicothe, Ohio, during World War I. She noted he was the only member of Company M, 330th Infantry Regiment, whose name never came up in mail call.

She wrote a widely published story about Cunningham and he became the object of a national letter-writing campaign that belied his nickname.

It was said that the Army had to set up a special mail detail to handle the volume. Cunningham received some 15 truckloads of mail.

Girl Soldiers To Fete Old Soldier, 111

FORT BLACKMORE, Va. (AP) — An old soldier, who in his 111 years "never saw a girl I didn't like," will play host Saturday to five gift-bearing members of the Women's Army Corps.

Their presentation to "General" John Salling, one of two surviving veterans of the Civil War, will be a new uniform that will make him a top officer in dress as well as in title.

The new outfit is an authentic replica of a Confederate general's uniform—made of summerweight material and loose in the waist as the "general" ordered.

The uniform was the result of newspaper stories last year in which Salling complained his wool Confederate uniform was "just too hot" for summer wear.

After reading of the spry old soldier's complaint, members of the Women's Army Corps at Ft. Myer, Va., formed a committee and collected contributions from 150 members of the two WAC companies on the base.

Armed with a bolt of cloth, yards of gold trimming and Salling's measurements, a tailor set to work.

The finished product will be presented to Salling at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. A. McCamey, with whom he lives at the nearby community of Slant.

The only other survivor of the war, also a Confederate, is Walter Williams, 115, Franklin, Tex.

Police Investigate Thefts From Cars

Circleville Police today are investigating the theft of a radio from Pickaway Motor's garage, N. Court St., and the removal of two auto fender skirts owned by Floyd Moats, 123 Mound St.

The car radio theft was reported yesterday. It was valued at $50.

Police said the fender skirts were taken last night. The car was parked in Moats' garage.

Patrolman Roderick List investigated.

Speeder Fined In Muny Court

Ralph E. Peters, 23, Stoutsville, was fined in Circleville Municipal Court today on an accusation of speeding.

Peters was fined $20 and costs for speeding at 70 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone. He was arrested by the State Highway Patrol.

Divinity School Deans Plead For Unity

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Church unity, an educated ministry and more stands on issues are the three chief needs of modern Christianity, say the deans of the Yale and Harvard divinity schools.

"The church needs more unity and integrity," said Dean Liston Pope of Yale. "The split into 200 different Protestant churches is self-contradictory."

Speaking for more education in the religious field, Dean Douglas Horton of Harvard said of his students: "We are trying to sensitize them so that they can think for themselves. Religion is not something to which you can close your mind."

The third great need, said Pope, is "greater relevance to what is going on in the world. The church is much less relevant to social matters now than 40 years ago."

Furthermore, he said, "the church too often doesn't speak out enough. It has become too timid on most of the great issues facing the world."

Why the reluctance for Christianity to take stands?

"The complexity of social issues is more clearly seen now than several years ago," said Horton. Things don't seem so clear-cut nowadays as men of 40 years ago used to think, he added.

Both deans, Congregationalists, are leaders in the ecumenical movement — a phrase that connotes a world unity of churches.

Transplant Teeth Proven Success

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—Living proof has been presented that it is now possible to transplant teeth successfully.

Four teen-agers showed their transplanted teeth Wednesday night in a demonstration for 150 dentists and oral surgeons attending the annual Harvard Dental Assn. meeting.

The four are among 50 young patients who had transplant operations performed by Dr. Walter C. Guralnick, dental surgeon at Massachusetts General Hospital. He said that in all cases the transplants were successful.

By the time Havana quieted down around midnight, at least 29 rebels had been counted dead in the capital. Two policemen were killed in the suburbs and a number wounded.

The outbreak was the first fighting in Havana since Castro called for "total, implacable war" against Batista beginning last Saturday. Most of the recent fighting has been in easternmost Oriente province, Castro's headquarters area, where his guerrilla forces have knocked out most road and rail traffic.

Rebel leaders said only a trial maneuver was planned but hotheaded youths caused it to misfire. Insurgents had been instructed only to sabotage utility systems, force work suspensions and then declare the strike. But badly coordinated firing made it look like the big thing.

First came the strike broadcasts at 11:30 a. m., the beginning of Havana's three-hour lunchtime. About 75 rebels opened fire on police in the old port area while raiding parties knocked out some gas, electric and telephone services. Rebel snipers fired at police from rooftops in some districts.

Block-to-block fighting failed to develop, however, and police were able to concentrate on the isolated rebel groups and scatter them.

By 2 p. m. the outnumbered rebels were forced to abandon the fight. Most workers returned to their jobs after lunch, and the police counteroffensive began.

Stock Mart Backs Away, Chalks Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market backed away in full trading early this afternoon. Small losses were the rule for most key stocks.

Steels, motors, chemicals and nonferrous metals declined. Leading rails were slightly ahead on average. Utilities were fairly firm. A few stocks moved more widely.

The market was resuming a downtrend interrupted by a day and a half of technical rebound following a general decline that lasted nine sessions.

Lukens Steel fell about 3 points. Eastern Corp. jumped well over a point. Lorillard lost about a point.

Youngstown Sheet dropped around a point. Fractional losses were the portion of U.S. Steel, Bethelehem and Republic Steel.

Chrysler was down a good-sized fraction while General Motors eased. Du Pont was off around a point. Standard Oil (NJ) lost a fraction.

Small losses also were taken by Anaconda, Kennecott, United Aircraft, Union Carbide, American Tobacco and Southern Railway. Boeing and Consolidated Natural Gas were slight gainers. New York Central, Southern Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio were steady.

U. S. government bonds were steady to a shade higher.

Ohio Idle Pay Fund Cut 10 Pct.

COLUMBUS (AP)—Jobless benefit payments in the first three months of 1958 cut Ohio's unemployment trust fund balance nearly 10 per cent.

State Treasurer Roger Tracy said the fund balance at the end of March totaled $554,662,659. He said that was a drop of more than $57½ million from the total a year ago. The decline was 9.41 pct.

Benefit payments during the January-March period, Tracy reported, totaled nearly $64½ million, an increase of more than $42 million over the same period a year ago. He said that was a 191 per cent increase.

The Pickaway County Ministerial Assn. has granted its endorsement to the American Cancer Crusade in Pickaway County.

Cancer Sunday will be observed in many churches. Special prayers will be made for the progress of medicine and science in combating this dreaded disease. Free materials have been distributed for circulation by the Cancer Society in county churches.

"The national hospital bill," Hal Dickenson, Pickaway County Unit chairman of the Society said, "is estimated at about $300 million, or 10 times what the American Cancer Society is asking the public to give to fight cancer in 1958. Last year more school children died of cancer than of any other disease."

The ACS program, financed by funds donated by the public each year, he said, is a four-point attack on the problem:

To find what causes cancer.

To find new ways to cure the disease.

To find ways to prevent it.

To alleviate pain and suffering.

The Ministerial Assn. is hopeful and prayerful that the goal set for Pickaway County will be met in full by generous gifts and pledges, and that the Cancer Society's three - fold purpose of Education, Service and Research might be realized constantly.

* * *

"THE RELIGIOUS aspect of the crusade against cancer, with its message of faith and hope, has always been sought and highly respected by the members of the Pickaway County Cancer Unit," said Ministerial president, Charles D. Reed.

Reed continued, "With a united front in our county we can give encouraging support to all those engaged in the struggle against the disease which now ranks as America's No. 2 killer."

5 Cleveland Kiddies Die In Home Fire

CLEVELAND (AP) — A flash fire swept through a 2½-story frame house today and killed five children, all under 8 years of age.

Their mother, who was preparing breakfast when the fire started, escaped with her 2-year-old daughter. Neighbors tried to save the children, but the flames blocked off the rescue attempts.

Killed in the fire were these children of Arthur Hicks, 30, and his wife, Ann, 24: Richard, 7, Robert 6, Barbara 5, Roger 4, and Ronald, 4 months.

Mrs. Hicks said she was in the kitchen of the house with 2-year-old Christine when the fire started. She and the baby girl were burned slightly.

"I was in the kitchen when I heard a thud," Mrs. Hicks told newsmen. "I thought the children had gotten up. I turned and saw the pantry was on fire.

"I ran to the front room to call the fire department. I didn't know the number, so I dialed the operator. When I hung up, I ran back to the kitchen and was going to get the children. The whole house seemed to be on fire.

"All I could do was grab Christine and run out of the house.

"A neighbor coaxed three of the four children upstairs out on the porch roof. I tried to get them to jump, but they went back in."

The father, who had left for his job at Park Drop Forge Co. just before the fire started, said:

"All my life I've been afraid of fire, and now one had to take my children."

Teachers Studying 'To Keep Up with Kids'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fifty school teachers from suburban Euclid went to school Wednesday night—for a post graduate course in space technology. The first session was on guided missiles.

"This is getting to be quite a subject," said D. W. Thompson, who teachers advanced algebra and geometry in high school. "After this I ought to be able to keep up with the kids."

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Communist Czechoslovakia has protested to the U.S. State Department against its refusal to give fellow - traveling Negro singer Paul Robeson a passport to travel abroad.

The official Czech news agency CTK said the Czech Peace Committee had invited Robeson to Prague for a spring music festival.

Several Communist nations and India sent congratulations to Robeson Wednesday on his 60th birthday and held celebrations in his honor.

NEW DELHI (AP)—India's Communist party Wednesday night unanimously adopted a new constitution designed to win votes away from Prime Minister Nehru's government Congress party by making the Reds look respectably democratic.

The constitution emphasizes the "closest contact with voters. . . unostentatious behavior and humility in all dealings with people."

The constitution was adopted after two days of discussion at a weeklong meeting of 500 delegates.

U.S. Experts Doubt Jap Fallout Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission said today that no evidence has been found to support a Japanese report that fish and marine life in the western Pacific have been contaminated by radioactive fallout.

An AEC spokesman was commenting on a report by Dr. Yasuo Miyake, director of the Geochemical Research Laboratory of Japan's Meteorological Assn.

Miyake said that consumption of the fish may not be a threat now, but it will become so if the nuclear tests are not stopped.

2 Amish Dads Handed Fines

Pair Ruled Guilty In School Dispute

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Two Amish fathers who have defied Ohio's school attendance law were fined $500 each Wednesday for contempt of court. But the legal tug-of-war over sending their sons to school still remained a hot and unresolved issue.

John and Eli Hershberger, cousins, were fined by Juvenile Court Judge Don Young of Norwalk because the sons were not brought to the hearing on child neglect charges as ordered by the court.

The case of a third Amish father, Emmanuel Slabaugh, was continued until next Wednesday.

All the cases stem from one fundamental conflict;

The Amish sect believe schooling beyond the eighth grade tends to loosen ties with religious beliefs. Ohio law, however, requires children to attend school until they are 16. All three boys involved are under 16 and have not attended school for almost a year.

The fines were not paid, pending an appeal which volunteer attorneys for the Amish said they would file. Judge Young permitted the parents to go home and said the fines must be paid only if an appeal of the decision is denied.

The Hershberger fathers and one of the mothers testified they had seen their sons about two weeks ago at the home of Jacob Miller in neighboring Holmes County, but have not been in contact with the boys since.

The parents said they had made no effort to locate their sons to bring them into court.

At a similar hearing last month, Judge Young sent all three couples to jail for contempt of court. The judge held that the parents did not comply with his order that the children be turned over to county authorities.

The Ninth District Court of Appeals, sitting at Akron, ruled the imprisonment improper and freed the parents after they had spent 12 days in the Wayne County Jail.

The search—since Jan. 29—for the three truant boys by Sheriff Glenn A. Rike and his deputies has proved fruitless. Rike said he will renew efforts to find the boys. But he explained finding the Jacob Miller farm will be difficult because there are many Amish with that name in the area.

'Most Lonesome' GI Of World War I Dies at Age 68

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP)—A western Pennsylvania man who was dubbed the "world's most lonesome soldier" in World War I died Wednesday at the age of 68.

Dode Cunningham of nearby Ruff Creek was given the nickname by a woman journalist who visited Camp Sherman near Chillicothe, Ohio, during World War I. She noted he was the only member of Company M, 330th Infantry Regiment, whose name never came up in mail call.

She wrote a widely published story about Cunningham and he became the object of a national letter-writing campaign that belied his nickname.

It was said that the Army had to set up a special mail detail to handle the volume. Cunningham received some 15 truckloads of mail.

Girl Soldiers To Fete Old Soldier, 111

FORT BLACKMORE, Va. (AP) — An old soldier, who in his 111 years "never saw a girl I didn't like," will play host Saturday to five gift-bearing members of the Women's Army Corps.

Their presentation to "General" John Salling, one of two surviving veterans of the Civil War, will be a new uniform that will make him a top officer in dress as well as in title.

The new outfit is an authentic replica of a Confederate general's uniform—made of summerweight material and loose in the waist as the "general" ordered.

The uniform was the result of newspaper stories last year in which Salling complained his wool Confederate uniform was "just too hot" for summer wear.

After reading of the spry old soldier's complaint, members of the Women's Army Corps at Ft. Myer, Va., formed a committee and collected contributions from 150 members of the two WAC companies on the base.

Armed with a bolt of cloth, yards of gold trimming and Salling's measurements, a tailor set to work.

The finished product will be presented to Salling at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. A. McCamey, with whom he lives at the nearby community of Slant.

The only other survivor of the war, also a Confederate, is Walter Williams, 115, Franklin, Tex.

We Have Sandwich Crisis

When is a sandwich a sandwich?

This gastronomic question is giving a stomachache to the trans-Atlantic airlines these days. Put in more specific terms, the question is: Just how fancy should a sandwich for an economy-fare passenger be?

In establishing a new "austerity" fare for those willing to cross the Atlantic in less comfort but at smaller cost, the airlines agreed to cut out meals, and to settle for a "simple, cold and inexpensive" sandwich fare.

The airlines can agree on what constitutes a cold sandwich. But there it ends.

The British and American lines want to stick with a simple thing of two slices of bread and a layer of something in between. But the European carriers, led by the Swiss and Scandinavians—how did those countries get into world air transport anyway?—want open-faced creations, sarcastically described by opponents as a sort of smorgasbord on bread.

One Scandinavian line spokesman explained, "Since European loaves are a little smaller than American, we will probably offer each passenger three sandwiches. Of course, you can't eat an open sandwich with your hand, so we will give you a knife and fork."

It's easy to see where that would lead to! No wonder the Americans are shouting the "Star-Spangled Banner" and the British "Hail Britannia" for their simpler versions.

How far the world is from the day when a sandwich meant "bread-butter-meat-butter-bread"!

Arabs and Oil Quotas

One of the arguments used against limiting oil imports has been that this would damage U. S. relations with the oil-producing Arab countries. Now comes interesting reassurance from the highly-respected Financial Times of London that this may not be the entire story.

The Financial Times points out that the Arab countries have the advantage of serving Eastern Hemisphere markets (mostly Europe), rather than American.

So cutbacks of oil sent to America do not have a major impact. And if the continued import of Abrabian oil to America would hurt the American oil industry to the extent that it wrecked crude oil prices, this would have an adverse effect on world crude prices.

Thus the Financial Times comes to the conclusion that the changes in American oil import policy announced by President Eisenhower may serve to buttress United States crude prices — and through them world crude prices. Therefore, the import cuts may be of direct benefit to Middle East Oil producers.

This point of view from an unbiased British source should make the import cutback efforts of American producers seem less selfish that leftwing cities try to make appear.

More Silly Secrecy at Capitol

An editorial could be written every day about the "silly secrecy" practiced by various government departments in Washington.

The latest example concerns plans to remodel the nation's Capitol which have been approved by a special commission and which some Congressmen are trying to block.

Reporters went to the architect of the Capitol to get details of the design which would extend the east front of the building by 32 feet. Also, the American Institute of Architects asked for the plans.

The petty bureaucrats, J. George Stewart, who is not a professional architect himself, said he would not reveal the plans because "they do not belong to the public and are not for publication." Asked for justification of his stand, he added that there was "no question of secrecy, that's just the way things are done on the Hill."

So help us—that's what the pipesqueak said.

Does the Capitol belong to the public or not? Does the public have a right to know how its $10 million will be spent?

Defense on Cheryl Crane

By George Sokolsky

In these days when committees are organized in defense of all sorts of causes, persons, spies and traitors, I should like to organize a Committee in Defense of Cheryl Crane, the child of tragic parents.

It is only too often in the very complex society of our city life that lonely but rich women latch themselves on to indecent men, gigolos, who live on their bounty. But there are also men who permit, even invite, other men, simpering men to latch on to them. It is not the other way around.

It is never that the gigolo goes after the woman. He is not only a coward but a professional. He never takes a chance. He goes where the dough is. He goes where loneliness is. He goes where a woman has lost confiddence in her charms.

He plays the game in three three stages — the up-stage in the course of which she regains a sense of being wanted. She has an escort to take her places. True, she pays. Then comes the down-stage when the gigolo knows that the dame is his but that time is running out. He must get the dough fast. He must have presents. He must be master of her purse which he has measured and judged.

It is then that he abuses the poor thing. He disgraces her in public. The threat of leaving her is potent, for after him, who will have her? Give! Give! he shrieks and if she holds back, he slaps her down.

The final stage is out. Who? Yeah! I once knew somebody by that name. You don't say. Well, I'm busy. I got a date.

There are lonely men, too — men who are afraid to be out in the dark. Give them an escort and they play big. They rule the world. So, they permit the same types to latch on to them, men who dress well, eat in the best restaurants, look attractive but serve as backgrounds. Racketeers - on - the - make, politicians - on - the - rise, movie actors in their prime, such genera seem to need the support of little men in their public appearances.

Again, when the employer is on the up-grade, the escorts move to be in. They get known about town as being in the in. The smart ones pick up bits of side dough but nothing to embarrass the boss.

They also make side connections but not too overtly. You never can tell when things might change. They are loyal enough but also know where untaxed money is hidden, where out - of-the - country bank accounts are placed, where the boss has made a slip here or there, has cheated with a dame, etc., etc.

Comes the day when the boss has arrived. He is on top. The law of life is that whatever goes up, comes down. The smart escort begins to try to cash in. It is a slower process than with women, because the cement kimono is still a way of retribution. However, there are some who pay off and pay off for a long time. The politician has it easy. He can always settle a bum in a public position. Soon enough, they meet on equal terms and the past is forgotten.

Out of such a situation has come the aphorism concerning some men, particularly political lawyers, that first they get on; then they seek honor; and finally they become honest. Only old newspapermen remember the hoary past, and who cares? The days of the much-raker are past and who needs a controversial reporter?

The curse of all this is what it does to the children. Lana Turner has had four husbands and this horrible gigolo whom her child quite heroically murdered. The child knew all about her mother's boy friend. She hated him, obviously. One can imagine what the language of this ex-henchman of Mickey Cohen's was like. The child heard him threaten her mother. How many times before had this happened? How many nightmares had this child gone through?

Sure her mother was great. But actually she was only her mother. Nobody else's. And this great big beast of a gigolo was probably slapping her mother around. So the child put a kitchen knife in his gizzard. It is the least a child can do for a mother.

Let's form a committee to defend children who teach parents that the wage of sin is death.

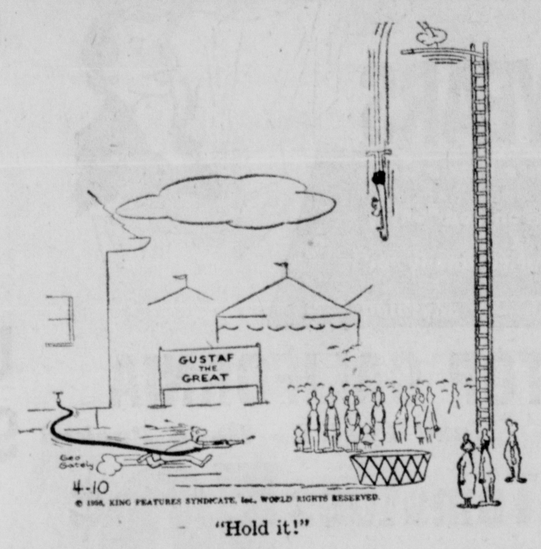
LAFF-A-DAY



"Hold it!"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A POSTAL INSPECTOR looked over a sub-station in the rear of a crossroads grocery in a tiny town. "This place is a disgrace," he declared. "I never saw such dirt and confusion. I'm going to report this to Postmaster Summerfield."

The local postmaster chewed his terbachy a few moments, then hauled out a couple of fly-specked three-cent stamps, and slapped them into the inspector's hand.

"Now, git!" he commanded angrily, "and take your durn post office with you."

Home Remedies for Hiccups

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Call it hiccup, hiccough or singultus, it's still nothing to joke about.

Hiccups result from anything which irritates the afferent or efferent nerve pathways or the centers which control the respiration muscles, particularly the diaphram.

I doubt that any of you have escaped an attack of hiccupping. Maybe it was caused by laughing too heartily, swallowing hot foods or by any variety of other factors.

Often, temporary cases of hiccups cannot be traced to any specific cause. Prolonged sessions, however, usually can be accounted for.

Disorders of the stomach and esophagus, liver conditions and blader irritations sometimes are at fault. Very often attacks occur during pregnancy. Some even result from psychogenic causes, although these hiccups generally disappear while eating.

There are numerous methods of halting transient cases of hiccuping. You probably have heard of a number of so-called "home remedies."

Believe it or not, most of them work. And if one doesn't, another probably will.

Here are a few suggestions:

Take a sereles of deep breaths; breathe into a paper bag to build up the CO-2 in your body. Drink a glassful of water rapidly in one continous action. Swallow dry bread or crushed ice.

Other measures which may be tried, include applying pressure upon the eyeballs, placing pressure on the carotid artery with the thumb and forefinger for one minute or tickling the nares of the throat until vomiting is produced.

Now some of these actions are rather drastic and it probably would be well to call your physician if the four I have listed first don't do the trick. He has a number of treatments available for stubborn cases. Perhaps he will decide upon a gastric lavage or maybe he will dilate the esophagus.

Benzel benzoate or amphetamine are sometimes used by doctors to halt attacks. Or your doctor may try inhalation therapy by using 5 per cent CO-2 in oxygen, or even 10 per cent, if necessary.

Question and Answer

B. R.: I am a man of 56. For the past year, I have suffered from pains in the calves of my legs when walking. My feet also are very cold. What would you advise?

Answer: It would seem that you have some disturbance of the circulation of your legs. There are many drugs and certain operations available to cure this disorder.

You should consult your physician for treatment.

TV--a Monopoly on Mediocrity

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Movie producer Jerry Wald, who likes to feel the public pulse, claims he knows what is the third most interesting thing in the world—to most people.

The answer may surprise you. It is sex.

"I polled 8,000 librarians all around the world," he said, "and asked them what were the themes of the books people asked for most often.

"The No. 1 theme turned out to be survival. The second favorite theme was security. Sex was third."

"Pictures that show sex for for sex's sake, or violence for violence's sake — they are no good anymore. They have no future," is Wald's conclusion.

He says the film business has undergone a big change in the last year.

"You have to lift a picture now to the level of your audience," said Wald.

"They are more hep. They are better educated, entertainment-wise, then any other generation in our history.

"Two years ago they asked, 'Who's in it?' Now they ask, 'What's it about.'"

Here are some more observations by Wald, who, at 45, is ranked as one of the smartest film executives:

"Television has a monopoly on mediocrity today. It is being wrecked by the guys in the empty gray flannel suits. They are poll parrots. We used to have guys like that in the movie business. We lost them. Perhaps they all went into TV.

"But TV has my sympathy. We turn out 500 hours of entertainment a year. They have to turn out 30,000 hours. How can it be good?

"One of the problems we have in Hollywood is the need for more girls who look good in dresses, who can wear clothes and walk in them with an air of elegance. You'd be amazed how few can.

"Only one in 10 patrons go to a movie alone. It's the women we have to please. A man doesn't usually go to a movie. He is brought to it by his wife, mother or girl friend—and she picks the picture.

"Any actor or actress who tries to get ahead by looking like a current star doesn't have a chance. You have to be original.

"Is the picture business washed up? How can any business that still does two billion dollars a year at the boxoffice be washed up? We talk ourselves into panics and self-induced paralysis.

"We're the only industry which, when it does something bad, tries to blame it on the audience. The people who make motor cars don't do that.

"Whatever is wrong with our business isn't the public's fault. It's ours."

We Have Sandwich Crisis

When is a sandwich a sandwich?

This gastronomic question is giving a stomachache to the trans-Atlantic airlines these days. Put in more specific terms, the question is: Just how fancy should a sandwich for an economy-fare passenger be?

In establishing a new "austerity" fare for those willing to cross the Atlantic in less comfort but at smaller cost, the airlines agreed to cut out meals, and to settle for a "simple, cold and inexpensive" sandwich fare.

The airlines can agree on what constitutes a cold sandwich. But there it ends.

The British and American lines want to stick with a simple thing of two slices of bread and a layer of something in between. But the European carriers, led by the Swiss and Scandinavians—how did those countries get into world air transport anyway?—want open-faced creations, sarcastically described by opponents as a sort of smorgasbord on bread.

One Scandinavian line spokesman explained, "Since European loaves are a little smaller than American, we will probably offer each passenger three sandwiches. Of course, you can't eat an open sandwich with your hand, so we will give you a knife and fork."

It's easy to see where that would lead to! No wonder the Americans are shouting the "Star-Spangled Banner" and the British "Hail Britannia" for their simpler versions.

How far the world is from the day when a sandwich meant "bread-butter-meat-butter-bread"!

Arabs and Oil Quotas

One of the arguments used against limiting oil imports has been that this would damage U. S. relations with the oil-producing Arab countries. Now comes interesting reassurance from the highly-respected Financial Times of London that this may not be the entire story.

The Financial Times points out that the Arab countries have the advantage of serving Eastern Hemisphere markets (mostly Europe), rather than American.

So cutbacks of oil sent to America do not have a major impact. And if the continued import of Abrabian oil to America would hurt the American oil industry to the extent that it wrecked crude oil prices, this would have an adverse effect on world crude prices.

Thus the Financial Times comes to the conclusion that the changes in American oil import policy announced by President Eisenhower may serve to buttress United States crude prices — and through them world crude prices. Therefore, the import cuts may be of direct benefit to Middle East Oil producers.

This point of view from an unbiased British source should make the import cutback efforts of American producers seem less selfish that leftwing critics try to make appear.

More Silly Secrecy at Capitol

An editorial could be written every day about the "silly secrecy" practiced by various government departments in Washington.

The latest example concerns plans to remodel the nation's Capitol which have been approved by a special commission and which some Congressmen are trying to block.

Reporters went to the architect of the Capitol to get details of the design which would extend the east front of the building by 32 feet. Also, the American Institute of Architects asked for the plans.

The petty bureaucrats, J. George Stewart, who is not a professional architect himself, said he would not reveal the plans because "they do not belong to the public and are not for publication." Asked for justification of his stand, he added that there was "no question of secrecy, that's just the way things are done on the Hill."

So help us—that's what the pipesqueak said.

Does the Capitol belong to the public or not? Does the public have a right to know how its $10 million will be spent?

Defense on Cheryl Crane

By George Sokolsky

In these days when committees are organized in defense of all sorts of causes, persons, spies and traitors, I should like to organize a Committee in Defense of Cheryl Crane, the child of tragic parents.

It is only too often in the very complex society of our city life that lonely but rich women latch themselves on to indecent men, gigolos, who live on their bounty. But there are also men who permit, even invite, other men, simpering men to latch on to them. It is not the other way around.

It is never that the gigolo goes after the woman. He is not only a coward but a professional. He never takes a chance. He goes where the dough is. He goes where loneliness is. He goes where a woman has lost confiddence in her charms.

He plays the game in three three stages — the up-stage in the course of which she regains a sense of being wanted. She has an escort to take her places. True, she pays. Then comes the down-stage when the gigolo knows that the dame is his but that time is running out. He must get the dough fast. He must have presents. He must be master of her purse which he has measured and judged.

It is then that he abuses the poor thing. He disgraces her in public. The threat of leaving her is potent, for after him, who will have her? Give! Give! he shrieks and if she holds back, he slaps her down.

The final stage is out. Who? Yeah! I once knew somebody by that name. You don't say. Well, I'm busy. I got a date.

There are lonely men, too — men who are afraid to be out in the dark. Give them an escort and they play big. They rule the world. So, they permit the same types to latch on to them, men who dress well, eat in the best restaurants, look attractive but serve as backgrounds. Racketeers - on - the - make, politicians - on - the - rise, movie actors in their prime, such genera seem to need the support of little men in their public appearances.

Again, when the employer is on the up-grade, the escorts move to be in. They get known about town as being in the in. The smart ones pick up bits of side dough but nothing to embarrass the boss.

They also make side connections but not too overtly. You never can tell when things might change. They are loyal enough but also know where untaxed money is hidden, where out - of - the - country bank accounts are placed, where the boss has made a slip here or there, has cheated with a dame, etc., etc.

Comes the day when the boss has arrived. He is on top. The law of life is that whatever goes up, comes down. The smart escort begins to try to cash in. It is a slower process than with women, because the cement kimono is still a way of retribution. However, there are some who pay off and pay off for a long time. The politician has it easy. He can always settle a bum in a public position. Soon enough, they meet on equal terms and the past is forgotten.

Out of such a situation has come the aphorism concerning some men, particularly political lawyers, that first they get on; then they seek honor; and finally they become honest. Only old newspapermen remember the hoary past, and who cares? The days of the much-raker are past and who needs a controversial reporter?

The curse of all this is what it does to the children. Lana Turner has had four husbands and this horrible gigolo whom her child quite heroically murdered. The child knew all about her mother's boy friend. She hated him, obviously. One can imagine what the language of this ex-henchman of Mickey Cohen's was like. The child heard him threaten her mother. How many times before had this happened? How many nightmares had this child gone through?

Sure her mother was great. But actually she was only her mother. Nobody else's. And this great big beast of a gigolo was probably slapping her mother around. So the child put a kitchen knife in his gizzard. It is the least a child can do for a mother.

Let's form a committee to defend children who teach parents that the wage of sin is death.

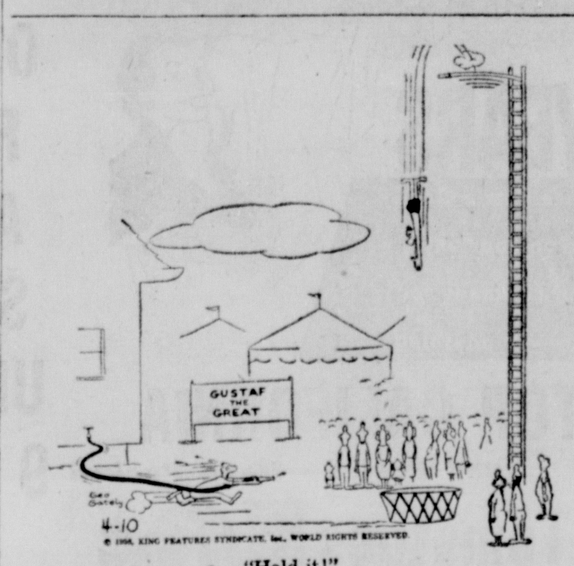
LAFF-A-DAY



"Hold it!"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A POSTAL INSPECTOR looked over a sub-station in the rear of a crossroads grocery in a tiny town. "This place is a disgrace," he declared. "I never saw such dirt and confusion. I'm going to report this to Postmaster Summerfield."

The local postmaster chewed his terbachy a few moments, then hauled out a couple of fly-specked three-cent stamps, and slapped them into the inspector's hand.

"Now, git," he commanded angrily, "and take your durn post office with you."

Sputnik II's Actual Weight Hinted as Huge

Russian Satellite May Tip Scales at Several Tons, Belief

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Russia's giant Sputnik II is about to make a flaming exit from outer space. And there's belief that the Soviets scored an even greater scientific feat with their dog-carrying moon than first recognized.

The satellite, experts at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory here say, is expected to make its final plunge through the earth's atmosphere sometime Saturday afternoon or evening. The end may well be spectacular, with the satellite glowing like a meteor and visible over a wide area.

Launched last Nov. 3 with the shaggy dog Laika aboard, the half-ton weight of the Soviet moon with its canine space pioneer astonished the world. America's three circling satellites are midgets by comparison.

Today some scientitst at the observatory think the Soviet accomplishment of orbiting a dog with food, water and an air-conditioning system able to keep it alive for a week was actually considerably more impressive than the Western world realizes.

They believe Sputnik II is four or five times heavier than the half-ton announced by the Soviets.

The free world assumes Sputnik II weighs a half ton because Russia announced a few hours after the launching that "the total weight of the instrument is 508.3 kilograms."

Various translations differ but all agree 508.3 kilograms was given after a listing of the instruments and dog. This is about 1,118 pounds, or well over half a ton.

Smithsonian scientists believe Russia was referring only to the weight of the instruments, dog and the essentials to keep it alive a week in space, not the over-all weight of the satellite-rocket. They beleive the rocket motor, empty tanks and frame were possibly 40 feet in length and weighed several tons.

The significance of this is that it indicates Russia must have developed a first stage rocket motor far larger than anything on American drawing boards.

Scientists say it takes roughly 1,000 pounds on the ground to orbit a pay load of one pound. The 11-ton U.S. Vanguard develops 27,000 pounds of thrust to orbit a satellite the size of a handball weighing three pounds plus a final stage rocket weighing less than 50 pounds.

Canine Wigwag Fails; Boy Burglar Nabbed by Police

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Because his canine wigwag alarm system failed, a 15-year-old boy police say admitted burglaries at 18 northside business places is in custody of juvenile authorities.

The boy told police that he had used his dog, Champ, as a lookout during lootings.

The dog, a three-foot-high black and white boxer-terrier combination, was placed outside at a spot the owner could observe from within the place burglarized. If the dog's tail started wagging, that was warning someone was approaching.

Champ had no welcome wag for two policemen who approached the Hillside Tavern. Inside, the policemen found the dog's master. In the boy's pocket was $2.35 taken from the tavern's cash drawer.

Ohio Excise Tax Collections Drop

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio's excise tax collections nosedived in March, particularly on high-powered beer and ale.

The state collected only $1,197,578 in high-powered beer and ale taxes last month, a drop of $409,342 below March 1957. That was a decrease of 25½ per cent.

Collections on 3.2 beer dropped $25,996, a 17½ per cent decrease, and cigarette tax collections fell off $24,053, a drop of less than 1 per cent.

Still, collections from all excise taxes in the fiscal year which began July 1 are slightly more than $2½ million ahead of the 1956-57 bookkeeping year.

St. Philip's Auxiliary Holds Annual Election

The Annual Election and report session of St. Philip's Women's Auxiliary was held Wednesday in the Parish Hall under the supervision of Mrs. Leora Sayre, president. Mrs. Dale Lanman was welcomed to the official group.

"Know Your Auxiliary", program theme for the month, was well exercised in all aspects of the meeting.

Mrs. Enid Denham, secretary, presented a comprehensive review of activities during the official year in the following distinct categories of the parish program: worship, study, service and fellowship.

In her Treasurer's report, Miss Elsie Jewell presented details of how much money was involved in all aspects of these endeavors.

Mrs. Melvin Thompson read an explanatory letter from the Diocesan United Thank offering custodian in further preparation for the April 20th ingathering scheduled for the 10:30 service.

Committees are being arranged for dinners for 2 organizations. After an evaluation discussion of Past Bazaar projects, it was decided to individually start planning and preparing for a "Country Store". The date for this will be decided later.

Delegates elected for the Annual Diocesan meeting, April 29 - 30 at Christ's Church, Cincinnati were: Mrs. Helen Gunning, Mrs. Helen Weldon, and Mrs. Melvin Thompson. The alternates elected were Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Mrs. Howard Moore and Mrs. David Craven.

In behalf of the nominating committee, Mrs. J. E. Groom presented the following slate of officers for election for the ensuing year: Mrs. Arthur Johnson, president; Mrs. Andrew Thomas, vice president; Mrs. Howard Moore, secretary and Mrs. C. E. Anderson, treasurer. This recommendation was unanimously approved and the secretary declared those named officially elected.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. E. Nolen and Mrs. Emily Amey.

Styles from St. Louis

Asked to choose their favorite new silhouettes several hundred girls in schools throughout the United States from coast to coast selected as their favorites the jumper sheath, the overblouse and, for dressier occasions, the princess and the Empire.

Participating in this questionaire were high school seniors as well as college students. The differences in the answers they gave did not vary to any great extent.

Typical example of the younger group's preferences are these smart and wearable costumes created by St. Louis designers.

The blouson two-piece dress and the jumper sheath worn with a black cotton classic blouse with roll-up sleeves, are by Jo Collins. The one-piece frock with its straight, slender skirt is the work of Darl.

THE BLOUSON influence is seen in this two-piece dress in a novelty knitted fabric.

HERE'S THE new jumper for spring made in a bold black and white checked cotton print.

THIS OUTFIT IS in rayon linen and the bold plaid of the bodice is in dramatic contrast to the solid slim skirt.

Bargain Items Assist In Big Job Ahead

The busy Easter week has come and gone. Now we can start thinking of the big job ahead—Spring cleaning. The one job that always seems like such a task.

The local retail stores are aiding to our redecoration problems in our homes by cutting prices on a variety of merchandise. Some of the many items on display are cannon towels, bathroom durtain and shower sets, umbrellas, boudoir lamp shades, fiberglas drapes, etc.

If you need a bathroom curtain and shower set better hurry. The ones on display are in a variety of colors, yellow, black, blue, pink or white with backgrounds of fish designs of differest colors. The nice point they are of washable plastic. Priced at $1.88 originally they sell for $1.98 each.

The same store has cute boudoir lamp shades marked at a very low price. Some of the shades are fussy, some plain.

We found a nice buy in fiberglas drapes in one of the stores. Fiberglas drapes are becoming one of the main features in many a home. The care of the drapes is the most appealing point of interest to the housewife. No dry cleaning bills because they can be laundry, no ironing, less drying time and can be rehung shortly after they are taken down.

The drapes are of floral prints on white backgrounds or in solid colors to blend with the other decorations of a room.

April is the month we think of "April showers." It is bad to be caught in the rain without an umbrella. Window shopping we saw umbrellas on sale, at bargain price. The umbrellas are of cloth material in bright plaids. Only 97 cents.

One of the local minister's made the statement "I wonder who had a grudge against women when the chemise dress was designed." The chemise is one design which we fele a person will have to become accustomed to seeing. We think the chemise is here to stay.

For information on the items listed above call 1335 for further details.

Weeky Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What's new on the food front this week?

Beef, pork and lamb are among the specials offered by many U.S. markets this weekend but prices are not cheap.

Poultry is still the standout buy.

Turkeys for roasting and chickens for frying are available at attractive prices almost everywhere.

Beef cuts offered at slightly reduced prices include boneless chuck pot roast, sirloin, hamburger, round steak and beef blade.

Egg prices are charting an erratic course this week — up in some cities and down in others. The general trend is lower.

The over-all trend of food prices is still upward. Market analysts say there's some hope of lower prices by late spring.

In May, new supplies of fresh vegetables should reach the market and by summer additional supplies of vegetables and local harvests of fresh fruits should reduce food bills by a considerable margin. The one big "if" in the picture is the weather.

You can look for lower meat prices in early fall when new supplies of hogs, cattle, chickens, turkeys and other meat animals reach market.

Good buys in vegetables now include dandelions and brocolli rabe. Beets, collards, snap beans, cabbage, asaparagus, endive, escarole, mushrooms, Maine and Idaho potatoes and iceberg lettuce are attractively priced.

Florida citrus fruits have come down a little but prices still reflect crop damage from winter storms.

Veteran Producer Dies at Age of 67

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Veteran movie producer Sol M. Wurtzel, first to cast such stars as Tom Mix, Will Rogers and Shirley Temple, is dead at 67.

Wurtzel, who died Wednesday, had been in poor health since a stroke in 1952.

One of his best remembered pictures was "A Connecticut Yankee," starring the late Will Rogers. He also produced the "Charlie Chan" series.

Eaton To Host Russian

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mikhail Menshikov, Russia's new ambassador to the United States, will be the guest of Cyrus S. Eaton, industrialist and financier, during his visit here next weekend.

THE CHARMING frivolity of the old French court is reflected in this late-day dress of warp-printed silk taffeta, with yellow roses on a white background. Designed by Roxane for Samuel Winston, it shows a pretty mid-winter face to fashion. The new long-line bodice is deeply tucked to the hips and moulds the figure above a soft and danceable skirt.

KILLING IN LANA TURNER HOME—These are the tense scenes as police investigated the butcher-knife killing of Johnny Stompanato, 43, "gigolo type" boyfriend of 38-year-old Lana Turner, in the star's home in Beverly Hills, Calif. Lana's daughter, Cheryl Crane, 14, admitted she ran into the pink bedroom and stabbed Stompanato in the abdomen when she heard him threaten her mother. Left: A policeman examines body on bedroom floor. Upper right: Cheryl greets Stompanato as he and her mother returned from an Acapulco jaunt recently. Lower right: Lana, accompanied by attorney Jerry Giesler, enters Beverly Hills police station shortly after the killing. Lana said she was "deathly afraid" of Stompanato. (International Soundphotos)

Food's Bargain at Any Price, Says Expert in Good Eating

LAS CRUCES, N. M. (AP)—Housewives should know that food is a bargain, contends an expert in the business.

Food is the best investment she can make for her family, says Dr. Roger Corbett, president of New Mexico A&M College and a recognized expert in the field of food from furrow to frying pan.

Corbett has literally lived his life in the study and admiration of food. He has leaped with degrees and practical experience into the Nation's Food Comes First program, winning converts on every side.

Corbett says that to understand the nation's and the world's food situation we must "follow food from the back 40 to breakfast, from land to lunch, from dirt to dinner and from seed to supper."

The homemaker, contends Corbett, is the boss of the food team. Other members of the team are the producer, the processor or manufacturer, the wholesaler, the retailer and—of course—the customer.

Food, Corbett believes, is honestly and truly a bargain in the United States, despite its current record prices. He says that in European countries the food bill is half of the total cost of living. In the United States, he says, it has recently run about 25 per cent of the total cost of living — a drop from 26.8 per cent in 1957.

Food costs rise, he admits, but only because "the boss asks for more services with the food she buys." The boss, remember, is the housewife.

Corbett, no amateur in the business, says that the true test of the bargain of food is in the minutes of labor that are required to buy a food product.

He points out these statistics:

White bread, one pound, cost 17 minutes of labor to buy in 1956 but only 5 minutes in 1956 — based on wages of factory workers. Milk in quart sizes cost 21 minutes in 1916 and only 7 minutes in 1956. Potatoes at five pounds cost 31 minutes in 1916 and only 14 minutes in 1956. He adds:

"Along with this efficiency and progress goes a better quality product and greater service than in 1916."

Corbett believes strongly that only through the efforts of the food team can success be attained. . . and that it takes the efforts of every member of the team. He says:

"Food on the farm is not food on the table — it takes the whole team to place that slice of roast beef and that vegetable on your dinner plate."

Gorman Criticizes State Finance Chief On Use of Funds

LIMA (AP)—Robert N. Gorman of Cincinnati, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said in a campaign speech here Wednesday he would replace state Finance Director John Skipton if he should win nomination and election.

Gorman said that the state's finances are in a "critical" condition, and added:

"The present finance director has suggested cuts in the department of mental hygiene and correction, and the department of education, which fields can least afford any curtailment. The present finance director has purchased new equipment which has not been used and is now engaged in a desk-buying spree unequalled in the history of the state."

Credit Union Aide Accused in Thefts

TOLEDO (AP)—A former treasurer of a federal credit union, who federal agents say admitted embezzlements totaling at least $16,000, will be arraigned today in U.S. District Court.

"I'm glad it's all over. I've had to sleep with this thing all these years," agents quoted 57-year-old James Cowie Jr., as saying after his arrest Tuesday.

Cowie was treasurer of the credit union at the Toledo Machine & Tool Division of the E. W. Bliss Co. from 1940 until he quit last Jan. 29 after auditors discovered shortages in his books.

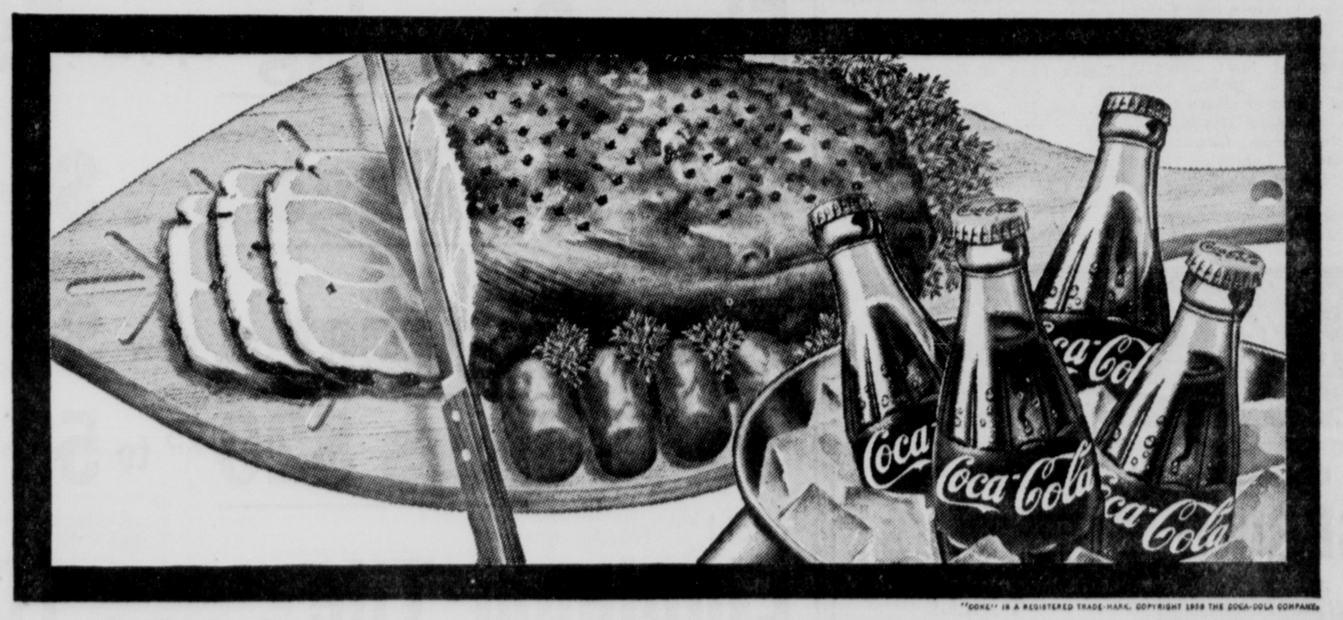
A well-stocked pantry is a good wife's pride and joy. From it she can produce a family meal . . . a company dish . . . a midnight treat. So, stock up on these "come-in-handy" foods. You'll find all kinds of interesting foods at your grocer's from which you can whip up impromptu meals. Pile your shopping basket high, and lay in plenty of Coke—your best friend on so many occasions. Coke will welcome guests . . . brighten meals . . . brighten you when you want refreshment.

FRUIT SALAD LUNCHEON. Chill canned fruits. For a "dressy dressing" stir whipped evaporated milk into mayonnaise, add diced maraschino cherries and slivered almonds. Serve hot muffins and ice-cold Coca-Cola. You show your own good taste in serving Coke—favorite of the world.



GLAZED HAM AND YAMS. Spread canned ham with orange marmalade, stud with cloves, bake until glazed. Put canned yams in same pan, baste with drippings. With this "thirsty" dish you'll want ice-cold Coca-Cola. Coke has the clean sparkling taste that livens up every bite of food!

ASHVILLE COUNCIL REPORT
Monday, April 7

Most of the evening was spent discussing possibilities of annexation and how much territory should be added. Each council member was assigned to a certain section of the proposed annexation to discuss it with the people who owned land. They reported last night that most everyone was in favor of the annexing.

Discussion was held in hiring a suitable man to serve as Service Director for the Village. This post is a new one to be filled.

It was reported that new sidewalks in front of the park have been completed and 12 new stop signs will be erected.

Several complaints have been heard from the people of the village who have no curb and gutters on their streets. It is the hope of the council to install these curb and gutters and new street lighting soon, especially in the Hoover addition.

Streets will be improved all over the town within the next few weeks.

There had beep a good deal of discussion at previous meetings on dogs running at large. It was reported this week that the situation is much improved.

Cleveland Utility Dispute Postponed

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Utilities Commission has granted the city of Cleveland additional time to investigate exhibits the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. wants to substitute for others in its $5½ million rate case.

The company wants to file calculations of the value of its property instead of a detailed pole by pole inventory of its property. This move is being protested vigorously by the city of Cleveland and several other northern Ohio communities.

At a hearing Wednesday, Cleveland law director Ralph Locher asked for additional time. It was granted.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband's work has taen him away from home for 18 months. We correspond regularly, of course, and I have taken a job to make the time pass more quickly.

Sometimes the loneliness seems unbearable; and I keep busy, wearing myself out, so that I will not think so much.

I have heard the old saying: "Absence makes the heart grow fonder." But is this true? Will things be the same after he comes back?

We have always been very close, and now it seems I am building a life for our little daughter and myself away from him. This is the first time we have been apart since we married. I seem to be living only for the day he returns — meanwhile unable to take much interest in anything.

What do you think of couples being separated this way, due to jobs, etc.? Does it make them closer, appreciate each other more?

L.P.

DEAR L.P.: In the case of emotionally well-balanced, mentally mature persons, capable of forming positive and enduring attachments (not mere childish self-concerned clinging), it may be that absence of the beloved tends to make the heart grow fonder. Somewhat a matter of distance lending enchantment to the view.

But even so, even amongst morally steadfast couples, it is necessary to make a real consistent effort to keep alive a sense of complete belonging. Each must contribute faithfully to a mutual fund of interests, that can be mentally shared, during long absence from one another. That is, if sympathetic understanding and mutual "other"-awareness are to be maintained. This is the essence of affectional closeness.

But in honesty we must face the fact that separation, for a lengthy period, is indeed a hardship and a hazard to the average man's relationship to his wife, and vice versa. And the earlier in marriage the separation occurs, the greater the risk that they will drift apart, emotionally; and thus will feel strangers to each other — or alien in spirit — when they meet again.

It is possible that you are trying to make your correspondence with your husband a major substitute for his company. You may invest too much thought and feeling, in a diffuse way, in this thread of communication — for example, making mental notes of what to tell him or recalling what he has written, during most of your waking time. In short, reveries of this type may be taking the place of meaningful interchange with friends, neighbors and relatives, day-to-day.

The remedy for heartache is, get interested in helping others; in relieving their needs; in sharing their woes. A first step in that direction is to join a church group devoted to neighborly good works. Ask your pastor for guidance. Such enterprise will tend to get your mind off self, reduce your tension, add zest to your letters — and speed the passage of time.

Georgia Teacher Is Reinstated

LAKELAND, Ga. (AP)—Mrs. A. B. Baskin, a teacher who said she was forced to resign over a segregation incident, has been reinstated.

The reinstatement was voted by the county board at a meeting attended by state school officials. It was effective Feb. 1, the date of her resignation, and means she will lose no salary because of her absence.

Mrs. Baskin, 65, allowed a white school boy, whose own bus had left, to ride home in a Negro school bus. She claimed that she was pressured into resigning. County board members, however, maintained that she quit voluntarily when the incident was discussed with her.

Democrats Chalk Gains During Illinois Primary

CHICAGO (AP) — The Democrats made gains in the strongly Republican suburbs of Chicago in Tuesday's Illinois primary.

The Democrats polled 80 per cent of the total vote cast in Chicago, their traditional stronghold. In the suburbs, the Democrats took 44 per cent compared with 24.96 per cent in the 1954 primary.

The total vote in Cook County (Chicago) was 678,923, only 27.20 per cent of the registered voters.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband's work has taen him away from home for 18 months. We correspond regularly, of course, and I have taken a job to make the time pass more quickly.

Sometimes the loneliness seems unbearable; and I keep busy, wearing myself out, so that I will not think so much.

I have heard the old saying: "Absence makes the heart grow fonder." But is this true? Will things be the same after he comes back?

We have always been very close, and now it seems I am building a life for our little daughter and myself away from him. This is the first time we have been apart since we married. I seem to be living only for the day he returns — meanwhile unable to take much interest in anything.

What do you think of couples being separated this way, due to jobs, etc.? Does it make them closer, appreciate each other more?

L.P.

DEAR L.P.: In the case of emotionally well-balanced, mentally mature persons, capable of forming positive and enduring attachments (not mere childish self-concerned clinging), it may be that absence of the beloved tends to make the heart grow fonder. Somewhat a matter of distance lending enchantment to the view.

But even so, even amongst morally steadfast couples, it is necessary to make a real consistent effort to keep alive a sense of complete belonging. Each must contribute faithfully to a mutual fund of interests, that can be mentally shared, during long absence from one another. That is, if sympathetic understanding and mutual "other"-awareness are to be maintained. This is the essence of affectional closeness.

But in honesty we must face the fact that separation, for a lengthy period, is indeed a hardship and a hazard to the average man's relationship to his wife, and vice versa. And the earlier in marriage the separation occurs, the greater the risk that they will drift apart, emotionally; and thus will feel strangers to each other — or alien in spirit — when they meet again.

It is possible that you are trying to make your correspondence with your husband a major substitute for his company. You may invest too much thought and feeling, in a diffuse way, in this thread of communication — for example, making mental notes of what to tell him or recalling what he has written, during most of your waking time. Lana's Love for Stompanato Said Chilled in Last Months

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Was Lana Turner's love for Johnny Stompanato cooling months before her handsome underworld boy friend was knifed to death in the actress' home?

Her letters to the 32-year-old onetime bodyguard of ex-gambler Mickey Cohen imply that.

So does an interview with the owner of the hotel in Acapulco, Mexico, where Miss Turner and Stompanato vacationed for two months.

Police say they are satisfied with the story that the husky ex-Marine was stabbed to death last Friday by Miss Turner's daughter Cheryl Crane, 14.

Cheryl told officers she plunged an eight-inch kitchen knife into Stompanato's stomach when he threatened to disfigure or kill her mother.

The latest batch of Miss Turner's letters to Stompanato, published in a copyrighted article in the Herald - Express, contained more torrid expressions of love and affection.

But the letters—written last January from Europe—also contain statements such as:

"You must let me be alone in my 'own world' for a while to rest, think, rest, think . . . I'll know when the time is right, if it ever is to be again."

Stompanato later flew from California and met the actress in Europe, where she had finished making a movie. Then they flew to Acapulco.

This surprised Teddy Stauffer, former husband of actress Hedy Lamarr, who owns the plush Villa Vera in the Mexican resort where Miss Turner and Stompanato moved into separate suites.

Stauffer said Miss Turner had written him in December saying:

"It will be very strange to be by myself in Acapulco."

"I got the impression," Stauffer said in Acapulco, "that Lana had discovered that she had made a mistake in meeting the wrong fellow, and got herself into something difficult and possibly dangerous to get out of."

"It seemed like she was scared to go back to California," he added.

While Stompanato was being buried in his hometown of Woodstock, Ill., police here said they were investigating a reported burglary at Stompanato's apartment.

Detective Chief Thad Brown said a clerk at the apartment house reported a window of Stompanato's apartment had been jimmied early Saturday—a few hours after Stompanato was killed.

Apparently the only thing missing, Brown said, was a shaving kit from the bathroom. He said a maid told him that the kit had contained a packet of letters.

Cohen said he acquired the letters published in the Herald-Express before Stompanato's death.

"But I didn't know what they were," said Cohen. He added he turned the letters over to the newspaper because he was angry with Miss Turner for claiming Stompanato was an "unwelcome guest."

Negroes Said Making Fast Migration North

WILBERFORCE (AP)—Within the next 10 or 15 years, two-thirds of the nation's Negro population will be living north of the Mason-Dixon Line, Dr. Willard Johnson, director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews said at a conference on human relations at Central State College, a school.

Toledo University Fund Campaign Said Success

TOLEDO (AP)—A $1 million goal in a campaign to finance construction of a new engineering-science building at the University of Toledo has been reached and may be topped, campaign chairman Preston Levis says.

The contributions matched another $1 million allocated by city council last year for the project. Construction is to start in June, with completion scheduled for 1960.

Road Superintendent's Dismissal Is Upheld

Will was removed after the Ohio Department of Highways said he had disposed of several hundred dollars worth of junk in an irregular manner.

Rhodes Says O'Neill Trying To Clean Up

COLUMBUS (AP) — State Auditor James A. Rhodes credits Gov. C. William O'Neill with making a forthright effort to clean up what Rhodes terms "an inherited mess" in the state's mental health program.

Both Rhodes and O'Neill, who is seeking reelection, are Republicans.

Rhodes, who has frequently criticized the handling of mental patients in state hospitals, said Wednesday:

"Gov. O'Neill's administration inherited a mess. He and his staff are doing a forthright job of correcting abuses that covered years of neglect and indifference."

Besides producing maple syrup, sugar maple trees are also highly prized to supply sturdy lumber for bowling alleys and ballroom floors.

Toledo University Fund Campaign Said Success

TOLEDO (AP)—A $1 million goal in a campaign to finance construction of a new engineering-science building at the University of Toledo has been reached and may be topped, campaign chairman Preston Levis says.

The contributions matched another $1 million allocated by city council last year for the project. Construction is to start in June, with completion scheduled for 1960.

Road Superintendent's Dismissal Is Upheld

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Civil Service Commission has upheld a recent order that removed James I. Will from his job as highway maintenance superintendent in Crawford County.

Will was removed after the Ohio Department of Highways said he had disposed of several hundred dollars worth of junk in an irregular manner.

Rhodes Says O'Neill Trying To Clean Up

COLUMBUS (AP) — State Auditor James A. Rhodes credits Gov. C. William O'Neill with making a forthright effort to clean up what Rhodes terms "an inherited mess" in the state's mental health program.

Both Rhodes and O'Neill, who is seeking reelection, are Republicans.

Rhodes, who has frequently criticized the handling of mental patients in state hospitals, said Wednesday:

"Gov. O'Neill's administration inherited a mess. He and his staff are doing a forthright job of correcting abuses that covered years of neglect and indifference."

Besides producing maple syrup, sugar maple trees are also highly prixed to supply sturdy lumber for bowling alleys and ballroom floors.

Lana's Love for Stompanato Said Chilled in Last Months

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Was Lana Turner's love for Johnny Stompanato cooling months before her handsome underworld boy friend was knifed to death in the actress' home?

Her letters to the 32-year-old onetime bodyguard of ex-gambler Mickey Cohen imply that.

So does an interview with the owner of the hotel in Acapulco, Mexico, where Miss Turner and Stompanato vacationed for two months.

Police say they are satisfied with the story that the husky ex-Marine was stabbed to death last Friday by Miss Turner's daughter Cheryl Crane, 14.

Cheryl told officers she plunged an eight-inch kitchen knife into Stompanato's stomach when he threatened to disfigure or kill her mother.

The latest batch of Miss Turner's letters to Stompanato, published in a copyrighted article in the Herald - Express, contained more torrid expressions of love and affection.

But the letters—written last January from Europe—also contain statements such as:

"You must let me be alone in my 'own world' for a while to rest, think, rest, think . . . I'll know when the time is right, if it ever is to be again."

Stompanato later flew from California and met the actress in Europe, where she had finished making a movie. Then they flew to Acapulco.

This surprised Teddy Stauffer, former husband of actress Hedy Lamarr, who owns the plush Villa Vera in the Mexican resort where Miss Turner and Stompanato moved into separate suites.

Stauffer said Miss Turner had written him in December saying:

"It will be very strange to be by myself in Acapulco."

"I got the impression," Stauffer said in Acapulco, "that Lana had discovered that she had made a mistake in meeting the wrong fellow, and got herself into something difficult and possibly dangerous to get out of."

"It seemed like she was scared to go back to California," he added.

While Stompanato was being buried in his hometown of Woodstock, Ill., police here said they were investigating a reported burglary at Stompanato's apartment.

Detective Chief Thad Brown said a clerk at the apartment house reported a window of Stompanato's apartment had been jimmied early Saturday—a few hours after Stompanato was killed.

Apparently the only thing missing, Brown said, was a shaving kit from the bathroom. He said a maid told him that the kit had contained a packet of letters.

Cohen said he acquired the letters published in the Herald-Express before Stompanato's death.

"But I didn't know what they were," said Cohen. He added he turned the letters over to the newspaper because he was angry with Miss Turner for claiming Stompanato was an "unwelcome guest."

Airline Told How To Help Midshipmen

CHICAGO (AP) — The supeninтendent of the U. S. Naval Academy has let an airline take full blame because 10 midshipmen were late in returning from Easter vacation.

"Make this report to me in writing and the ax won't fall," Rear Adm. W. R. Smedberg III told George Lambert, district sales manager of Trans World Airlines.

The mixup developed Monday morning at Chicago's Midway Airport. Fourteen midshipmen waited in line to board the 80-seat TWA plane to Washington. Their tickets all had been validated.

But 25 students from suburban Wheaton High School were conducted aboard the plane ahead of the others so they could pose for photographs before leaving for their annual class trip to the nation's capital.

The midshipmen were last in line. After four of them boarded the plane, TWA agents announced the flight had been oversold. The remaining 10 midshipmen were told they would have to go by a later plane.

They protested. Their families and friends protested. TWA agents said they couldn't do more than get them luncheon tickets and first class seats on a Capital Airlines plane leaving 2 hours and 20 minutes later.

The midshipmen missed the return deadline at the academy and were in line for severe restrictions and demerits.

Lambert, who said the mixup was caused by the failure of communications to keep up with actual reservations, telephoned Smedberg. He said the midshipmen were not to blame and requested they be let "off the hook."

$1 Million Blaze Hits Akron Plant

AKRON (AP) — An explosion and fire today destroyed the plant of Alside, Inc. in south Akron and company officials said the damage would run to $1 million.

Cause of the fire was not determined, but the explosion resulted when enamel and thinner were ignited. Three large outside storage tanks for enamel and thinner were threatened by the flames.

After the fire started at the rear of the building, some 200 employes fled out a front entrance. The plant makes aluminum house siding, using a baked enamel process.

County Engineers Alerted by O'Neill

COLUMBUS (AP)—The next three wekes will be busy ones for Ohio's county engineers.

Gov. C. William O'Neill told them Wednesday that Ohio has about $2 million in new federal road improvement money to spend on county roads. That's in addition to work already scheduled for the year.

But he wants the new county road projects scheduled with the state by May 1.

What's the hurry? Ohio is eligible for the money only if the new work is under contract before next December and finished by December 1959.

Duke Kahonamoku, who won world titles for his swimming feats, is now on the Honolulu police force.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has spoken very firmly on buying things and streamlining the Defense Department although what he says one day may not sound exactly like what he said some previous day.

He has talked on both subjects at his news conferences over a period of months, starting last October.

Oct. 30—At this time, before the recession had deepened, he was asked for advice to housewives and consumers on how to cope with rising prices. He said: "I just believe in a period of rising prices like in any other thing, people should attempt to purchase less than when prices are going down."

Between then and March the recession got deeper and prices went higher.

March 5—Eisenhower said: "I believe, of course, that the upturn in our economy will be the result of millions of citizens making their purchases, having greater confidence."

March 26—He said: "I believe that the American public now should be buying on the basis of the worth of the product that is offered them." He suggested business do a better packaging and advertising job to encourage buying.

(On April 7 Secretary of the Treasury Anderson, speaking at the opening of a savings bond drive, urged people to buy bonds. He said those doing so are "simply temporarily transferring their purchasing power to the government.")

April 9 — Asked what people should do to make the recession recede, Eisenhower said: "Buy." He was asked: "Buy what?" He said: "Anything."

Then, reminded that Anderson suggested people put their money in bonds, Eisenhower replied: "Well, I don't say you should buy carelessly. I said . . . let's be selective . . . Let's take the things we need." He took a crack at manufacturers, suggesting they are trying to sell things people don't want.

He has spoken twice at some length on his plans for reorganizing the Defense Department. The first time was in January while the plans were still under study.

Jan. 15—He said: "Now my personal convictions, no matter how strong, cannot be the final answer. There must be a consensus reached with Congress . . . I would be the last to ask for a detailed organization in which I believe because, I think, organization has got to be effective after there has passed from the scene a man who happens to have particularly strong convictions in the matter."

Asked if he would or wouldn't fight for whatever plan he finally came up with, Eisenhower didn't say yes or no but did say, "My views will be expressed to the very best I can."

Last week he sent his plan to Congress. It ran into some stiff opposition from Democrats and Republicans, particularly because of the power it would give Secretary of Defense McElroy.

April 9—Told some "very powerful men" of both parties in Congress were opposed to his plan, Eisenhower was asked how he intended to get it through Congress.

He said: "I don't care how strong or numerous they are. Here is something that is necessary. I would . . . get onto the air as often as the television companies would let me. I would keep it up until I would have the United States understanding that it is their pocketbook, first of all; more than that, it is their safety . . .

"I don't care just who is against this thing. It just happens I have got a little bit more experience in military organization and the directing of unified forces than anyone else in the active list . . ."

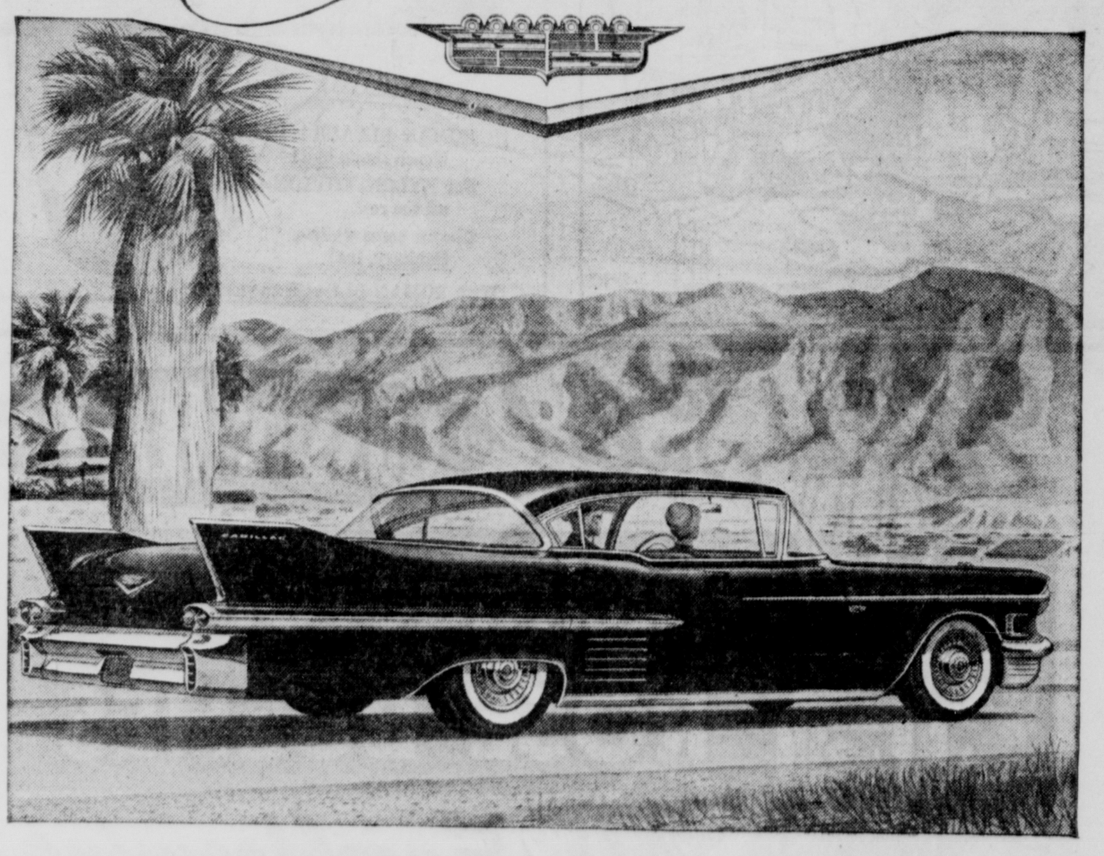
Cadillac



When Distance Is Always Tempting!

Take a new Cadillac—point its hood toward some distant destination—and watch what happens!

We would be willing to wager that day's end would find you far closer to journey's end than you could ever have imagined!

We say this because we know how wonderful the miles are when they pass beneath the wheels of a new Cadillac—and how tempting distance is when seen through the windshield of the "car of cars".

First of all, imagine how comfortable and rested you would be! The seat-cushions are soft and deep and perfectly contoured. The steering wheel is ideally positioned . . . and the car is wonderfully spacious.

Then consider how easy the car is to handle! It is incredibly agile and responsive—and wonderfully smooth and level of ride. In fact, if you have selected the extra-cost option of Cadillac's air suspension, you can scarcely detect the presence of the road.

And think of your pride and contentment! The very knowledge that your motor car is so highly admired and so widely respected adds its own reward to each and every mile.

You ought to try it soon. Your dealer will be happy to explain the virtues of Fleetwood coachcrafting—and to give you the facts on every model, including the exclusive Eldorado Brougham.

Tigers Lose, 6-3 To Chillicothe

Circleville's baseball Tigers suffered their second defeat of the early season as the Cavaliers of Chillicothe pounded out a 6-3 victory yesterday at Ted Lewis Park. Both Tiger losses have been at the hands of the strong Cavaliers.

A sudden outburst of wildness by pitcher Don Rowland contributed to his downfall. Circleville was trailing only 2-1 in the bottom of the third and the Tiger hurler had retired the first two batters when he suddenly walked three straight men to load the bases.

Chillicothe followed the advantage with two consecutive hits and four runs crossed the plate. The Tigers fought back desperately to even things up, but couldn't fashion a sufficient rally.

Brightest spot for Circleville was Joe Adkins who came on to start the fourth inning and pitched four frames of shutout ball. He gave up only two hits and struck out four in that period.

* * *

CHILLICOTHE drew first blood in the opening inning, although Rowland should have gotten out of the inning without trouble. A misplayed outfield fly ball fell in for a double and cost Circleville two runs.

The Tigers made the score 2-1 in the bottom of the second when Harry Strawser reached second base on a two-base error by Jim Peck, the Cavalier hurler. Strawser moved to third on an infield out and then scored on another error by Peck who tried to pick Strawser off third.

After the disastrous third inning which put Circleville behind by a 6-1 count, the Tigers rallied in the fourth.

* * *

Both CHS runs in that frame were driven in by Jim Woods who singled to right field with the bases loaded as a result of three bases on balls issued by Peck. Neither team could score during the final three innings.

Circleville managed only four singles off Peck, the Chillicothe lefthander. He struck out 12.

Circleville's record now stands at 3-2. The locals play at Hillsboro Friday and then come back here to play Athens in a doubleheader Saturday. Mike Hosler is scheduled to pitch at Hillsboro.

Giardello, Calhoun Sign for May 5 Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Top contenders Joe Giardello and Rory Calhoun have been signed for a 10-round middleweight fight in the Cow Palace May 5.

Matchmaker Bennie Ford, who announced the signing Wednesday, said the winner would be in line for a title fight with champ Ray Robinson.

Calhoun, from New York, is ranked No. 7 by the NBA.

Giardello, from Philadelphia, is No. 3 challenger.

3 More Cage Stars Named For Contest

TROY (AP)—Three more scholastic basketball stars have been named to play in Ohio's first North-South high school basketball game here June 20.

Gary Roggenburk of Cleveland St. Ignatius and Wesley Jones of Toledo Scott were selected for the North squad and Bud Olsen of Dayton Belmont was named to the South team.

Roggenburk, 6 feet, 6 inches tall, set a single season scoring mark at St. Ignatius last season, amassing 449 points. He also holds the three-season school mark with 1,194 points.

Jones, a 6-foot, 3-inch defensive standout at Scott, scored 284 points as a junior and 222 last season.

The only other player named so far to the North team is Bobby Greene of Akron South. The North squad will be coached by both the state Class AA and A champion coaches, John Broski of Cleveland East Tech and Dan Baker of Northwestern of Wayne County, respectively.

Olsen, the third member of the southern all-stars, is a solid 210-pound 6-foot, 6-inch native of Indiana. He was Dayton's city scoring leader, as a junior with 454 points, an average of 23.9 per game. His average dropped one point last season to 22.9.

Middletown's Jerry Lucas and Ralph Snead of Ironton were named earlier to the squad which will be coached by Paul Walker of Middletown and J. Franklin Miller of Pleasantville.

John Skillman, national professional squash racquets champion in 1937, has coached Yale tennis teams since 1943. He also coaches the Eli squash teams.

Herb Score Tagged Tribe Leadoff Hurler

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP)—Manager Bobby Bragan's assignment of pitchers in recent exhibition games indicates that the Cleveland Indians' pitching rotation after the season starts will be Herb Score, Ray Narleski, Don Mossi and Mike Garcia.

Garcia is still bothered by an ailing back, however, and may be replaced by Dick Tomanek or Jim (Mudcat) Grant. Right-hander Bob Lemon, who is on the come back trail after undergoing an elbow operation last November, also may figure in the rotation.

Hawks Hold Scared Edge Over Celtics

BOSTON (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks still feared the injury-riddled Boston Celtics today while one game away from thier first National Basketball Assn. title.

"We aren't right yet and the Celtics still are a great ball club, even without Bill Russell," cautioned St. Louis Coach Alex Hannum Wednesday night after the Hawks' 102-100 victory for a 3-2 advantage in the best-of-seven series.

"I think maybe the Celtics are slowing up a little, but we're scared stiff of them whether they have Russell or not," declared former Kentucky star Cliff Hagan.

With Russell sidelined with a severe ankle injury and backcourt ace Bill Sharman hobbled up by a twisted knee, St. Louis built up a 15-point haftime lead and then held on to win.

The Celtics, refusing to quit in defense of their NBA title, fought from nine points behind in the final two and a half minutes, but couldn't overtake the Hawks.

Frank Ramsey, who took over the offensive burden and led the Boston scorers with 30 points, hit on a long set shot to draw the Celtics within a point—101-100—with seconds remaining.

Boston scored only 12 field goals in 51 attempts in the first half, which, coupled with poor foul shooting, proved too much to overcome. The Celtics connected on 32 of 106 from the floor.

Middleweight boxer Rory Calhoun once had an ambition to become a doctor.

GOING TO WORK?—Returning from a three-week exhibition tour in England, Floyd Patterson, the heavyweight king, squares off against an acquaintance, Kim Kearns, 11, in New York. Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato, announced that the champ may defend his crown in the U. S. in May or June. (International)

Machen-Folley Match Ruled To Be Draw

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Top-ranking heavyweights Eddie Machen and Zora Folley failed by far to determine a clear-cut title challenger Wednesday night in their 12-round draw.

A rematch appears probable.

Lanky Bill Swift, Folley's manager, shouted, "That decision was the biggest robbery I've ever seen."

He said a protest will be made to the California Athletic Commission but conceded he thought the decision would stand.

Most of the crowd of 11,759 at the Cow Palace booed lustily at dull action on occasion. They seemed to side with Swift and his 190-pound underdog from Chandler, Ariz.

Boos greeted announcement of the card from the one official who voted for Machen.

A ringside check of sports writers indicated a 4-1 ratio for Folley over the 191½-pound Machen, of San Francisco. Machen had won all his previous 24 fights.

Under California's 10-must scoring system, Referee Frankie Carter favored Machen 117-116. Judge Jack Downey scored it 115-115 and Judge Fred Apostoli saw Folley ahead 117-115.

Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis opined: "It was a terrible fight. Machen wasn't sharp and Folley weakened."

Redlegs Smiling At Their Progress

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs and the Washington Senators wind up their barnstroming exhibition series here today and there were some smiles in the Cincinnati camp even though outfielder Frank Robinson is sidelined after being hit by a pitched ball.

In the first place, Harvey Haddix, on whom Manager Birdie Tebbetts is counting heavily to bolster the weak Redleg pitching staff, came up with a five-hitter Wednesday to blank the Senators at Portsmouth, Ohio, 2-0.

And then catcher Ed Bailey suddenly broke out with a rash of four hits in as many times at bat, including a home run. Those were as many hits as Bailey had gotten in 45 previous at bats.

Buckeyes Resting Weary Muscles

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio State University football players rest their weary muscles today. The Buckeyes, with three days of spring practice behind them, have the day off.

Coach Woody Hayes continued shuffling his backfield candidates Wednesday, seeking to get greater depth to his returning combination of Frank Kremblas, Don Clark, Dick LeBeau and Bob White.

Involved in the switching was Jim Herbstreit, a 160-pounder from Reading, moved up to the first team left halfback post, replacing John Dresser, who was injured in Tuesday's practice.

Greensboro Open Pulls 130 Entries

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — The Greater Greensboro Open tournament, boasting a field of 130, today launched the summer tour of the traveling golf brigade.

Fourteen of the top 25 money winners thus far this year answered the call to the first tee in pursuit of top money of $2,000.

Eighteen holes will be played daily through Sunday over the testing Starmount Forest Country Club. Par is 35-36—71, with the course stretching 6,631 yards.

Although he's not on the list of leading winners, Sam Snead remains, as always at Greensboro, the man to beat.

Crack of Bones Now Rivaling Boom of Bats

Major League Teams Chalking Up More Names on Injury List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The crack of breaking bones is rivaling the crack of home run bats and arnica is becoming an essential commodity among major league baseball teams heading toward their home bases.

Frank Robinson, hard - hitting young left fielder of the Cincinnati Redlegs, was sent spinning to the dirt Wednesday when he was hit on the head by a pitched ball. He became the third casualty in as many days of a rather disastrous spring baseball period.

Monday, Harry (Suitcase) Simpson, New York Yankee outfielder, suffered a broken right wrist when he was struck by a pitched ball. He will be lost to his team for three to four weeks.

Tuesday, outfielder Wes Covington of the Milwaukee Braves suffered a wrenched left knee when he collided with Los Angeles catcher Rube Walker at home plate. It's hoped he may be ready for Tuesday's opener, but there's no guarantee.

Willie Mays, star center fielder of the New York Giants, got his arm clipped by a pitch which has handicapped his usefulness for a while. Duke Snider, the Los Angeles Dodger slugger, will not start the season because he is still bothered by the left knee which underwent an operation last winter.

Haywood Sullivan, Boston's rookie catcher, suffered a fracture of the right index finger. Then it was found he had a ruptured spinal disc which required surgery. He probably is lost for the year.

Yogi Berra, the New York Yankees catcher, has a split hand. Al Smith, Chicago White Sox outfielder, has an inflamed tendon in his right leg. Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, the American League's leading hitter, is hobbling around on a bad left ankle.

Williams made his first appearance in a spring game Wednesday, but it proved nothing. He went to the plate twice and twice walked as the Red Sox beat Memphis of the Southern Assn. 10-1.

Robinson's injury occurred at Portsmouth, Ohio, where the Redlegs got little comfort from breaking a three-game losing streak with a 2-0 triumph over the Washington Senators.

He was hit on the face by a pitch thrown by Camilio Pascual. A doctor said he suffered concussion but probably no fracture. He may be out only a few days.

Herb Score, the Cleveland Indian southpaw who almost lost an eye when he was cracked by a line drive last May, was charged with a 6-3 loss to the San Francisco Giants at Harlingen, Tex.

The Braves whipped their old rivals, the Dodgers, again 5-4. The winning pitcher at Dallas was the World Series hero, Lew Burdette.

The Philadelphia Phillies banged the New York Yankees' aging Sal Maglie 12-8 at Winston-Salem, N.C. The Chicago White Sox crushed St. Louis at Denver 10-6, getting seven runs in the fourth inning. The Kansas City Athletics topped Little Rock 8-3.

In a night game across the border, the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped Mexico City 23-1.

Campy Still Strapped to Bed But Has Faith in Recovery

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP) — Roy Campanella is still not permitted to have visitors, outside of his family and a few close friends.

His wife Ruthe explained: "The doctor thinks it's best, and so do I. Roy would love to see his friends. He is so eager to talk about baseball and the Dodgers. But the doctor feels it might prove harmful. He shouldn't be talking much and you know Roy. He might flare up with all the excitement. And there's always the danger of catching a cold, a virus. . . ."

Mrs. Campanella had arrived at the Glen Cove Community Hospital for the first of her three daily visits. She's been making those visits for the past 10 weeks, ever since Campanella was injured in an automobile accident. He remains paralyzed from the waist down.

The elevator stopped on the third floor. Mrs. Campanella walked down the length of the corridor and stopped outside Roy's door.

"Roy's making progress," she said. "He shows a little bit of improvement almost each day. He still can't do anything for himself but he has become able to move his arms a little and he has begun to have feeling in the lower part of his body.

"His temperature became normal for the first time yesterday. His appetite has improved. He is just now beginning to feel the taste of food. He still can't feed himself. He doesn't have enough strength in his fingers to hold on to anything."

Inside the room, Campanella, his maimed body strapped to a turning rack in his bed, was lying on his back. He was almost completely immobile.

Frank Scott, business agent for many of the major league players and a close friend of the Campanella family, accompanied Ruthe into the room.

The visit was limited to ten minutes. Scott reported that Campy looked just about the same as he did when the 1957 baseball season ended last September. His arms had thinned somewhat.

"Campy is convinced he's going to be able to walk again some day," Scott related. "Throughout our conversation he kept saying 'I'm going to make it, I'm going to make it . . . the good Lord will see me through. . . .' Honest, he speaks with such faith and confidence that you get the feeling he will pull through."

The doctors still cannot say what the future holds in store for Roy. There are hopeful signs.

Mrs. Campanella came out to say goodbye. "Isn't Roy's spirit wonderful?" she asked. "He keeps all of us hopeful."

At the elevator, Ruthe shook hands with the visitors and said simply:

"Roy and I thank you for coming."

Thank you, Mrs. Campanella, and good luck, Roy.

Updegraff, Robbins Favored in Tourney

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Defending champion Edgar Updegraff and national amateur champion Hillman Robbins loomed as co-favorites in the 56th Western Amateur golf tournament starting today at the Country Club of Florida with more than 100 entrants.

Martin Stanovich of Miami Beach rated as a substantial dark horse on his showing in practice rounds. He turned in 70s for two trial rounds over the long par 72 layout, and appears to have the stamina to withstand the week-long test combining medal and match play.

The first two days are devoted to 18-hole qualifying rounds.

North Carolina Senator Felled by Heart Attack

BURLINGTON, N. C. (AP)—North Carolina Sen. W. Kerr Scott is reported showing signs of recovery from a heart attack.

The 62-year-old Democrat suffered a coronary thrombosis Wednesday while he and Mrs. Scott were getting drivers' license renewals.

The senator was taken to the Almance General Hospital.

Pete Brennan, Roy Searcy, Tommy Kearns and Bob Cunningham will be graduated before North Carolina's next basketball season rolls around.

The bay colt Prairie Beau was so-named because the son of Beau Dandy-Miss Meggy was foaled in the Prairie country of Winnipeg, Man.

EYEING BIG YEAR—That rocket-throwing southpaw of baseball, Herb Score, of the Indians, demonstrates his old form on the mound as he gets set to return after suffering that tragic eye injury last season. Score, 24, won 16 games for the Tribe in 1955, his first year, followed with 20 victories in 1956 and was 2-1 when hit by a line drive last year. (International)

Machen-Folley Match Ruled To Be Draw

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Top-ranking heavyweights Eddie Machen and Zora Folley failed by far to determine a clear-cut title challenger Wednesday night in their 12-round draw.

A rematch appears probable.

Lanky Bill Swift, Folley's manager, shouted, "That decision was the biggest robbery I've ever seen."

He said a protest will be made to the California Athletic Commission but conceded he thought the decision would stand.

Most of the crowd of 11,759 at the Cow Palace booed lustily at dull action on occasion. They seemed to side with Swift and his 190-pound underdog from Chandler, Ariz.

Boos greeted announcement of the card from the one official who voted for Machen.

A ringside check of sports writers indicated a 4-1 ratio for Folley over the 191½-pound Machen, of San Francisco. Machen had won all his previous 24 fights.

Under California's 10-must scoring system, Referee Frankie Carter favored Machen 117-116. Judge Jack Downey scored it 115-115 and Judge Fred Apostoli saw Folley ahead 117-115.

Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis opined: "It was a terrible fight. Machen wasn't sharp and Folley weakened."

BASEBALL? NOT HERE—As the major league baseball season openers near the accent at Ohio State university is the spring football practice and here are Buckeye linemen hard at work as Coach Woody Hayes (rear) watches. The Bucks will have a beefy line this year. (International)

Buckeyes Resting Weary Muscles

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio State University football players rest their weary muscles today. The Buckeyes, with three days of spring practice behind them, have the day off.

Coach Woody Hayes continued shuffling his backfield candidates Wednesday, seeking to get greater depth to his returning combination of Frank Kremblas, Don Clark, Dick LeBeau and Bob White.

Involved in the switching was Jim Herbstreit, a 160-pounder from Reading, moved up to the first team left halfback post, replacing John Dresser, who was injured in Tuesday's practice.

Greensboro Open Pulls 130 Entries

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — The Greater Greensboro Open tournament, boasting a field of 130, today launched the summer tour of the traveling golf brigade.

Fourteen of the top 25 money winners thus far this year answered the call to the first tee in pursuit of top money of $2,000.

Eighteen holes will be played daily through Sunday over the testing Starmount Forest Country Club. Par is 35-36—71, with the course stretching 6,631 yards.

Although he's not on the list of leading winners, Sam Snead remains, as always at Greensboro, the man to beat.

Crack of Bones Now Rivaling Boom of Bats

Major League Teams Chalking Up More Names on Injury List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The crack of breaking bones is rivaling the crack of home run bats and arnica is becoming an essential commodity among major league baseball teams heading toward their home bases.

Frank Robinson, hard - hitting young left fielder of the Cincinnati Redlegs, was sent spinning to the dirt Wednesday when he was hit on the head by a pitched ball. He became the third casualty in as many days of a rather disastrous spring baseball period.

Monday, Harry (Suitcase) Simpson, New York Yankee outfielder, suffered a broken right wrist when he was struck by a pitched ball. He will be lost to his team for three to four weeks.

Tuesday, outfielder Wes Covington of the Milwaukee Braves suffered a wrenched left knee when he collided with Los Angeles catcher Rube Walker at home plate. It's hoped he may be ready for Tuesday's opener, but there's no guarantee.

Willie Mays, star center fielder of the New York Giants, got his arm clipped by a pitch which has handicapped his usefulness for a while. Duke Snider, the Los Angeles Dodger slugger, will not start the season because he is still bothered by the left knee which underwent an operation last winter.

Haywood Sullivan, Boston's rookie catcher, suffered a fracture of the right index finger. Then it was found he had a ruptured spinal disc which required surgery. He probably is lost for the year.

Yogi Berra, the New York Yankees catcher, has a split hand. Al Smith, Chicago White Sox outfielder, has an inflamed tendon in his right leg. Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, the American League's leading hitter, is hobbling around on a bad left ankle.

Williams made his first appearance in a spring game Wednesday, but it proved nothing. He went to the plate twice and twice walked as the Red Sox beat Memphis of the Southern Assn. 10-1.

Robinson's injury occurred at Portsmouth, Ohio, where the Redlegs got little comfort from breaking a three-game losing streak with a 2-0 triumph over the Washington Senators.

He was hit on the face by a pitch thrown by Camilio Pascual. A doctor said he suffered concussion but probably no fracture. He may be out only a few days.

Herb Score, the Cleveland Indian southpaw who almost lost an eye when he was cracked by a line drive last May, was charged with a 6-3 loss to the San Francisco Giants at Harlingen, Tex.

The Braves whipped their old rivals, the Dodgers, again 5-4. The winning pitcher at Dallas was the World Series hero, Lew Burdette.

The Philadelphia Phillies banged the New York Yankees' aging Sal Maglie 12-8 at Winston-Salem, N.C. The Chicago White Sox crushed St. Louis at Denver 10-6, getting seven runs in the fourth inning. The Kansas City Athletics topped Little Rock 8-3.

In a night game across the border, the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped Mexico City 23-1.

Campy Still Strapped to Bed But Has Faith in Recovery

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP) — Roy Campanella is still not permitted to have visitors, outside of his family and a few close friends.

His wife Ruthe explained: "The doctor thinks it's best, and so do I. Roy would love to see his friends. He is so eager to talk about baseball and the Dodgers. But the doctor feels it might prove harmful. He shouldn't be talking much and you know Roy. He might flare up with all the excitement. And there's always the danger of catching a cold, a virus. . . ."

Mrs. Campanella had arrived at the Glen Cove Community Hospital for the first of her three daily visits. She's been making those visits for the past 10 weeks, ever since Campanella was injured in an automobile accident. He remains paralyzed from the waist down.

The elevator stopped on the third floor. Mrs. Campanella walked down the length of the corridor and stopped outside Roy's door.

"Roy's making progress," she said. "He shows a little bit of improvement almost each day. He still can't do anything for himself but he has become able to move his arms a little and he has begun to have feeling in the lower part of his body.

"His temperature became normal for the first time yesterday. His appetite has improved. He is just now beginning to feel the taste of food. He still can't feed himself. He doesn't have enough strength in his fingers to hold on to anything."

Inside the room, Campanella, his maimed body strapped to a turning rack in his bed, was lying on his back. He was almost completely immobile.

Frank Scott, business agent for many of the major league players and a close friend of the Campanella family, accompanied Ruthe into the room.

The visit was limited to ten minutes. Scott reported that Campy looked just about the same as he did when the 1957 baseball season ended last September. His arms had thinned somewhat.

Honest, he speaks with such faith and confidence that you get the feeling he will pull through."

The doctors still cannot say what the future holds in store for Roy. There are hopeful signs.

Mrs. Campanella came out to say goodbye. "Isn't Roy's spirit wonderful?" she asked. "He keeps all of us hopeful."

At the elevator, Ruthe shook hands with the visitors and said simply:

"Roy and I thank you for coming."

Thank you, Mrs. Campanella, and good luck, Roy.

BURLINGTON, N. C. (AP)—North Carolina Sen. W. Kerr Scott is reported showing signs of recovery from a heart attack.

The 62-year-old Democrat suffered a coronary thrombosis Wednesday while he and Mrs. Scott were getting drivers' license renewals.

The senator was taken to the Almance General Hospital.

Redlegs Smiling At Their Progress

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs and the Washington Senators wind up their barnstroming exhibition series here today and there were some smiles in the Cincinnati camp even though outfielder Frank Robinson is sidelined after being hit by a pitched ball.

In the first place, Harvey Haddix, on whom Manager Birdie Tebbetts is counting heavily to bolster the weak Redleg pitching staff, came up with a five-hitter Wednesday to blank the Senators at Portsmouth, Ohio, 2-0.

And then catcher Ed Bailey suddenly broke out with a rash of four hits in as many times at bat, including a home run. Those were as many hits as Bailey had gotten in 45 previous at bats.

Schroeder High in Praise Of People in West Germany

Henry J. Schroeder, Route 3, Circleville, manager of the local Container Corporation of America plant, got a first hand glimpse of how people live on the other side of the Atlantic Ocean during a recent tour of West Germany and other European countries.

Schroeder's tour centered in West Germany although he passed through France and made a trip to northern Italy. He left here March 10 and arrived home April 6.

The local manager's trip was a planned tour of subsidiary CCA plants in West Germany and one in the industrial area of northern Italy. His family did not accompany him on the business venture.

According to Schroeder, CCA has several subsidiary factories in Europe similar to the Circleville plant and others throughout the USA. His initial trip, made along with other Container supervisory personnel, had the primary purpose of exchanging ideas and standards leading to better production methods.

* * *

HE NOTED that a number of American Container personnel serve in Europe as full time technical advisors and supervisors.

Schroeder said much of his tour and exchange of ideas was conducted at a German plant in Viersen, near Duesseldor. This city is in the industrial Ruhr Valley area.

The CCA official noted that the so-called American "recession" is a lively topic of conversation in Germany. He pointed out that German people seem to feel that their economy is closely related to the American system.

He pointed out the West German economy appears to be booming in almost every respect. Ourwardly, he said there is no indication of a recession in the sectors of Germany he visited.

Based on a trip to Munich and other areas, he noted that the German people and economy appear to be on the happy and prosperous side. He described shops as being well-lighted, well-supplied and doing a good business, indicative of prosperity.

Schroeder was quick to mention the warm regard and friendly feeling the West German nation has for American people and the United States. He remarked that most German people seem to feel that their prosperity, in great part, has been due to the economic aid and assistance made possible by the U. S.

* * *

IN DISCUSSING his contacts with German people, Schroeder described them as being very friendly, courteous and hospitable. He also emphasized their ingenuity and keen logic in tackling problems — which have been many since World War II.

The local visitor said food was plentiful and exceptionally good everywhere he went and that meals were prepared with pride and care.

An example of German preciseness, he said, is the exact schedule maintained by trains and planes. He noted that these services follow the clock to the minute, making his transportation problem a simple one while there. Most of his traveling was done by car, plane and train.

Schroeder concluded by saying that his tour was most enjoyable He said that he returned here with only the highest regard for the people in West Germany.

56th Birthday For Penney

The local J. C. Penney Co. store today launched its 56th anniversary sale. Manager George Fuhrman said the local Penney store will join with other stores of the chain, across the nation, in celebrating the founding of the Penney empire in 1902.

The Penney stores were founded by James Cash Penney who opened a cash and carry store in a little frontier mining town of Kemerer, Wyo.

Based on the Golden Rule, Penney stores are noted for making a little profit on many sales, rather than making a large profit on few sales. The Penney stores are still cash and carry and offer a wealth of merchandise since each outlet is planned as a "hometown store, geared to fit the needs of each individual community.

Pickaway Grange Report

F. R. Lands, presided over a short business session when the Washington Twp. Grange met Wednesday night in the Washington Twp. School with 23 members present.

Mrs. Ralph DeLong, chairman of the home economics committee, reminded members of the sewing contest which will be held in May at the Scioto Valley Grange Hall.

Washington Grange will assist with luncheon at the Bloodmobile on its next visit at the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Arthur Leist, lecturer, was in charge of the program, using for her theme "Garden and Gardening." Opening the program, each member named a favorite flower and vegetable.

"Plant a Garden" was a poem presented by Weta Mae Leist Mrs. Loring Leist gave the reading "The Lord Walks in My Garden." An open discussion on gardening was held. "In the Garden" was the solo presented by David Bolender.

* * *

REFRESHMENTS were served by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph DeLong, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Marshall and Paul Marshall.

The next meeting will be held May 13 in Washington Twp. School.

NEA Group Seeking To Ban Magazine from Classrooms

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A National Education Assn. agency wants high school principals to consider banning Time and Life from classrooms "as long as they have an attitude and policy inimical to education."

The National Assn. of Secondary School Principals made the recommendation to nearly 20,000 junior and senior high school principals after Life ran an article on education in its March 24 issue.

The next day, a letter sent out from NASSP headquarters in Washington said in part:

"The only way to be effective in combatting a continuance of this type of irresponsible reporting is to write a letter of protest now" to Roy E. Larsen, president of Life. "We know from experience with another magazine a few years ago that your most effective weapon will be to question the continuation of subscriptions to the Life and Time publications in your school as long as they have an attitude and policy inimical to education."

The letter was signed by Paul E. Elicker, executive secretary, and George E. Shattuck, president.

Elicker told the Louisville Times that the letter was approved by the secondary school principals' board before it was mailed.

Elicker said the Life article contained untruths and that his association took exception to statistics which purported to prove that science, mathematics and foreign languages are neglected studies in U.S. schools.

The general manager of Life, Robert T. Elson, told the Times that the magazine would not engage in any exchange of statements with Elicker or his organization.

"Life obviously would not publish a story it did not consider to be true or in the best interests of the American community," Elson said.

Father of Cheryl Crane, 14, Says He's Proud of Daughter

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Maybe I shouldn't say it, but I'm proud of my Cherie."

Steve Crane, handsome ex-husband of Lana Turner, made that comment Wednesday night about their daughter Cheryl Crane.

"She only did what I, you or most anyone else would have done," he told this reporter. "She was frozen with fear and she stepped in to protect her mother."

He was referring to last Friday's fatal stabbing of Johnny Stompanato. Cheryl, 14, told police she stabbed the former Mickey Cohen henchman when he threatened to disfigure or kill her mother.

"Cherie loves Lana," said Crane. "I know I would have moved the same way to protect my own mother in a similar situation."

Crane said he hadn't seen Stompanato in person for over a year—about the length of time the underworld figure had romanced Lana. However, Crane said he talked to Stompanato once on the phone, but denied that he had ever threatened him.

Crane said Stompanato told him that he was in love with Lana and reassured Crane that he had no intention of hurting the child.

Crane, now 43, became Lana's second husband in 1942.

They were married in a Las Vegas, Nev., elopement that paralleled, even to the same judge, Lana's first marriage, to band leader Artie Shaw.

But the honeymoon was barely over when Carol Kurtz, an Indianapolis socialite, said that she too was married to Crane.

Crane thought he had received a Mexican divorce, but his explanation did not satisfy an enraged Lana. She had the marriage annulled.

Lana discovered she was pregnant. She called Crane in for a conference.

"Steve was polite and gentlemanly, as always," Lana once recalled. "He insisted that we must remarry for the sake of the child. And he got his previous divorce straightened out."

So Lana, six months with child, was remarried by a Tijuana, Mexico, magistrate.

Crane went into the Army the next day as a private. In 1944, when Cheryl was about 6 months old, Lana divorced Crane.

In 1949 Crane married Martine Carol, the French actress. The wedding took place in the principality of Monaco, on the French Riviera. But that marriage, too, ended in divorce.

Crane has always maintained friendly relations with Lana because of Cheryl.

Youth Is Accused In Cincy Assaults

CINCINNATI (AP) — Multiple charges were filed Wednesday night against a 20-year-old youth in connection with three recent attacks on women store clerks. The attacks included the near fatal beating of Mrs. Della Kleiber, 37, in her shoe store Tuesday.

James Snell was arrested Wednesday 30 minutes after Mrs. Esta Felthouse, 56, had fought back and frustrated a holdup attempt of a hardware store.

Snell, who said he came here only five weeks ago from Nashville, Tenn., was charged twice with armed robbery, and once each with assault to kill and assault to rob.

Schroeder High in Praise Of People in West Germany

Henry J. Schroeder, Route 3, Circleville, manager of the local Container Corporation of America plant, got a first hand glimpse of how people live on the other side of the Atlantic Ocean during a recent tour of West Germany and other European countries.

Schroeder's tour centered in West Germany although he passed through France and made a trip to northern Italy. He left here March 10 and arrived home April 6.

The local manager's trip was a planned tour of subsidiary CCA plants in West Germany and one in the industrial area of northern Italy. His family did not accompany him on the business venture.

According to Schroeder, CCA has several subsidiary factories in Europe similar to the Circleville plant and others throughout the USA. His initial trip, made along with other Container supervisory personnel, had the primary purpose of exchanging ideas and standards leading to better production methods.

* * *

HE NOTED that a number of American Container personnel serve in Europe as full time technical advisors and supervisors.

Schroeder said much of his tour and exchange of ideas was conducted at a German plant in Viersen, near Duesseldor. This city is in the industrial Ruhr Valley area.

The CCA official noted that the so-called American "recession" is a lively topic of conversation in Germany. He pointed out that German people seem to feel that their economy is closely related to the American system.

He pointed out the West German economy appears to be booming in almost every respect. Ourwardly, he said there is no indication of a recession in the sectors of Germany he visited.

Based on a trip to Munich and other areas, he noted that the German people and economy appear to be on the happy and prosperous side. He described shops as being well-lighted, well-supplied and doing a good business, indicative of prosperity.

Schroeder was quick to mention the warm regard and friendly feeling the West German nation has for American people and the United States. He remarked that most German people seem to feel that their prosperity, in great part, has been due to the econovic aid and assistance made possible by the U. S.

* * *

IN DISCUSSING his contacts with German people, Schroeder described them as being very friendly, courteous and hospitable. He also emphasized their ingenuity and keen logic in tackling problems — which have been many since World War II.

The local visitor said food was plentiful and exceptionally good everywhere he went and that meals were prepared with pride and care.

An example of German preciseness, he said, is the exact schedule maintained by trains and planes. He noted that these services follow the clock to the minute, making his transportation problem a simple one while there. Most of his traveling was done by car, plane and train.

Schroeder concluded by saying that his tour was most enjoyable. He said that he returned here with only the highest regard for the people in West Germany.

56th Birthday For Penney

The local J. C. Penney Co. store today launched its 56th anniversary sale. Manager George Fuhrman said the local Penney store will join with other stores of the chain, across the nation, in celebrating the founding of the Penney empire in 1902.

The Penney stores were founded by James Cash Penney who opened a cash and carry store in a little frontier mining town of Kemerer, Wyo.

Based on the Golden Rule, Penney stores are noted for making a little profit on many sales, rather than making a large profit on few sales. The Penney stores are still cash and carry and offer a wealth of merchandise since each outlet is planned as a "hometown store, geared to fit the needs of each individual community.

Pickaway Grange Report

F. R. Lands, presided over a short business session when the Washington Twp. Grange met Wednesday night in the Washington Twp. School with 23 members present.

Mrs. Ralph DeLong, chairman of the home economics committee, reminded members of the sewing contest which will be held in May at the Scioto Valley Grange Hall.

Washington Grange will assist with luncheon at the Bloodmobile on its next visit at the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Arthur Leist, lecturer, was in charge of the program, using for her theme "Garden and Gardening." Opening the program, each member named a favorite flower and vegetable.

"Plant a Garden" was a poem presented by Weta Mae Leist. Mrs. Loring Leist gave the reading "The Lord Walks in My Garden." An open discussion on gardening was held. "In the Garden" was the solo presented by David Bolender.

NEA Group Seeking To Ban Magazine from Classrooms

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A National Education Assn. agency wants high school principals to consider banning Time and Life from classrooms "as long as they have an attitude and policy inimical to education."

The National Assn. of Secondary School Principals made the recommendation to nearly 20,000 junior and senior high school principals after Life ran an article on education in its March 24 issue.

The next day, a letter sent out from NASSP headquarters in Washington said in part:

"The only way to be effective in combatting a continuance of this type of irresponsible reporting is to write a letter of protest now" to Roy E. Larsen, president of Life. "We know from experience with another magazine a few years ago that your most effective weapon will be to question the continuation of subscriptions to the Life and Time publications in your school as long as they have an attitude and policy inimical to education."

The letter was signed by Paul E. Elicker, executive secretary, and George E. Shattuck, president.

Elicker told the Louisville Times that the letter was approved by the secondary school principals' board before it was mailed.

Elicker said the Life article contained untruths and that his association took exception to statistics which purported to prove that science, mathematics and foreign languages are neglected studies in U.S. schools.

The general manager of Life, Robert T. Elson, told the Times that the magazine would not engage in any exchange of statements with Elicker or his organization.

"Life obviously would not publish a story it did not consider to be true or in the best interests of the American community," Elson said.

Father of Cheryl Crane, 14, Says He's Proud of Daughter

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Maybe I shouldn't say it, but I'm proud of my Cherie."

Steve Crane, handsome ex-husband of Lana Turner, made that comment Wednesday night about their daughter Cheryl Crane.

"She only did what I, you or most anyone else would have done," he told this reporter. "She was frozen with fear and she stepped in to protect her mother."

He was referring to last Friday's fatal stabbing of Johnny Stompanato. Cheryl, 14, told police she stabbed the former Mickey Cohen henchman when he threatened to disfigure or kill her mother.

"Cherie loves Lana," said Crane. "I know I would have moved the same way to protect my own mother in a similar situation."

Crane said he hadn't seen Stompanato in person for over a year—about the length of time the underworld figure had romanced Lana. However, Crane said he talked to Stompanato once on the phone, but denied that he had ever threatened him.

Crane said Stompanato told him that he was in love with Lana and reassured Crane that he had no intention of hurting the child.

Crane, now 43, became Lana's second husband in 1942.

They were married in a Las Vegas, Nev., elopement that paralleled, even to the same judge, Lana's first marriage, to band leader Artie Shaw.

But the honeymoon was barely over when Carol Kurtz, an Indianapolis socialite, said that she too was married to Crane.

Crane thought he had received a Mexican divorce, but his explanation did not satisfy an enraged Lana. She had the marriage annulled.

Lana discovered she was pregnant. She called Crane in for a conference.

"Steve was noble and gentlemanly, as always," Lana once recalled. "He insisted that we must remarry for the sake of the child. And he got his previous divorce straightened out."

So Lana, six months with child, was remarried by a Tijuana, Mexico, magistrate.

Crane went into the Army the next day as a private. In 1944, when Cheryl was about 6 months old, Lana divorced Crane.

In 1949 Crane married Martine Carol, the French actress. The wedding took place in the principality of Monaco, on the French Riviera. But that marriage, too, ended in divorce.

Crane has always maintained friendly relations with Lana because of Cheryl.
